Failure to collect taxes costs local schools $75,000 this year

Loss to grade schools is 42,000; high school 33,000

by STUART R. PADDOCK SR.

Paddock Publications is convinced that until the real estate tax payers realize the additional load that is being placed on them by non-payment of personal property taxes, there will be little improvement in personal property tax collection.

Interviews with persons who pay their taxes and others who do not, has convinced the writer that the first step is closer cooperation between the public and assessors. When the tax payer ignores his tax schedule, it is the assessor who is required to do the guessing and it is not surprising that the tax bill is excessive after the assessor not only guesses at the correct amount, but is required to apply a 50% penalty to which is also added the state equalization factor.

"An unreasonable personal property tax bill in past and future years is solely due to the neglect of the tax payer to file the schedule mailed to him by the assessor," is how Ted Studtman, of Wheeling township outlined the situation.

"It would also help," continued Studtman, "if the state legislature would cancel the state equalization factor now applied against personal property."

The next step is up to the judges who handle the collection. There are thousands and thousands of unpaid taxes that are only collected in case of an estate settlement. The courts recognize the justice of foreclosure on real estate to get such property back on the tax books. The local justices of the peace should adopt the same method in clearing their dockets of tax delinquents.

Such a course may require a few judgment sales of property belonging to individuals who fail to take advantage of the possibility of a settlement of the tax claim.

The third step is a matter of education of the public to the importance of the collection of every tax. That is what Paddock Publications is attempting to accomplish.

The fourth is the actual payment of the tax.

THE PUBLICATION of the present personal property articles appearing in this column is not intended to be an attack against any individual, whether he be a newcomer or an old timer. They are aimed against a growing practice of both newcomers and old-timers to default in payment of personal property taxes.

This week's article includes some facts and figures taken from the personal property tax books.

The Palatine Chamber of Commerce meeting called for the purpose of discussing PPT and advertised for last Friday night did not attract a single representative of a local taxing body. Half of those who came admitted that they were not paying the tax. They said they were ready to be convinced if anybody had the answer. They asked a lot of questions.

They were assured, however, that the new Palatine assessor, Robert Horn was ready to meet them half way. He was backed up by Judge Haggenjos of Barrington, who is expected to collect the money, willingly, or by due process of law.

He said that the situation in Palatine is terrible. In Barrington he has less than 100 delinquents. In Palatine he has 1600.

PROTEST PAYMENTS cause an additional loss to local taxing bodies. Organized groups make protests easy for its members. Few taxing bodies escape.

The tax rates of all elementary schools in Wheeling township were not questioned, but in Palatine township, the community consolidated and the high school would each lose approximately 10% of its total tax receipts if every tax payer followed the same procedure as those who protested, provided the county court upholds the reduction.

Protests on county wide taxes are county .101, forest preserve .011, tuberculosis sanitarium .76. Protests against rates of local taxing bodies are:

Arlington Hts. village	.200
Arl. Hts. Park District	.043
Arlington high school	.050
Palatine District 15	.123
Palatine high school	.134
Palatine township	.024
Palatine relief	.022
Palatine Fire Pro. Dist.	.001

Protests in Elk Grove made in the interest of members of Cook County Truck Growers are figured on a percentage basis. Objections are 100% against the township road and bridge fund and non-high school bond issue. No objections are being filed against school districts 57 and Elk Grove School District 59. Percentage of objections to other taxes are county 8, forest preserve 2., tuberculosis sanitarium 1.40, sanitary district .227, high school 6.2, school district 65, 1.4%.

WHEELING township personal property taxes amount to $202,000. If collected the funds would be apportioned among the taxing bodies as follows:

County	$ 24,000
Forest Preserve	27,000
TB Sanitarium	5,000
Road and Bridges	5,000
School tax	71,000
High school tax	57,500
Sanitary District	6,600
Arl. Hts. Park. Dist.	5,700
Wheeling Rur. Pk. Dist.	400
Village of Arl. Hts.	19,800
Village of Mt. Pros.	1,700
Village of Wheeling	800
Wheeling Rur. Fire Dept.	133
Palatine Rur. Fire Dept.	45
Prospect Heights	322
Non-high school	200
Total	$222,200

(Note—Only round figures given.)

It will be noted from the above that the high school district would receive $57,000. The various elementary school districts would receive as follows:

School District 21	5,289
School District 23	4,219
School District 24	941
School District 25	44,656
School District 26	11,780
School District 57	4,758

From present indications the corporations will pay their personal property taxes but there will be great many individuals who will not do so. William Annen, local collector, estimates that $100,000 will be in default, which in turn means that Arlington Heights elementary school district will lose over $20,000 and the high school over $25,000. An additional $6,000 will be lost in Elk Grove in expected revenue and smaller districts proportionately as much.

Because of the two years delay in forcing payments of personal property taxes, several hundred persons will probably have moved out of the area by the time the constable is handed summons.

An example of the trouble and work that is placed upon an assessor to keep his books up to date is shown by the following figures:

When the 1951 book was turned over to Mr. Studtman of Wheeling township the total listing was 2,421

Corporations and bank stockholders & estates	212
No. handled by assessor	2,209
Removals	431
Still active	1,778
Additions	844
Tot. reported to county	2,622
No. tax payers who filed	880
Schedules estimated	1,742

Deadline for filing 1952 personal property taxes is May 10. Theodore Studtmann, Wheeling township assessor will accept the same at his office, 17 N. Vail, Arlington Heights, from May 5 to 10 (except May 7). Hours will be from 9 a.m. to 12 noon; 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m.; and on the evenings of May 8, 9 and 10, from 7 to 9 p.m

To unveil new concert grand at May 11 concert

A long awaited concert grand piano for Arlington Heights high school arrived Monday and has been installed in its special niche in the new gymnasium.

The Mothers' day concert, May 11, at 3:30 p. m., will afford the public its first view of the piano, as well as its first opportunity to hear it played. Featured piano soloist will be Martha Zepp, who, accompanied by the concert band, will present Gerschwin's "Rhapsody in Blue."

OTHER FEATURES of the concert, to be presented by the school's combined music departments, include songs by the choir, advanced girls' chorus, freshmen chorus, and music by the orchestra and concert band.

The Baldwin concert grand piano has been purchased out of funds raised in the annual magazine drive, as well as contributions from various organizations in the school. When the new gymnasium was built a special room off stage was constructed solely to house this piano. When it is not in use it will be rolled off the stage and locked in its private room.

Students are urged to bring their mothers to this concert, which is given especially in their honor. Fathers are also invited. Admission is fifty cents. Those holding music activities tickets will be able to use them. This is the final concert of the season.

Friendly Singing club show to benefit paraplegic veterans

The Arlington Heights Friendly Singing club is hard at work on their show which they will present at the high school May 25. Proceeds will be used to pay for the annual picnic for paraplegic veterans, as well as to buy cigarettes for them.

The program committee, M. Curratti, N. Garrison, K. Bressner and C. Carlson, have been hard at work compiling the attractive program, which promises to be one of the best ever presented in Arlington Heights. The performers will come from Des Plaines, Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights, Palatine, Barrington and Arlington Heights.

Heading the ticket committee are George Orth, Park Allen and Clarence Tody. Business men in Arlington and surrounding towns are aiding with the program.

Cigarettes for the paraplegics have been supplied by the Friendly Singing club for the past two years and they would like to continue this work. The men also look forward to the annual picnic and it is hoped to have sufficient funds to give them the best picnic ever this year.

Persons desiring tickets may call any of the following numbers: Arlington Heights 1308, 1382-W, 1880, or 516-M.

Spring rubbish pick-up begins May 5 in Heights

The annual spring rubbish pick-up conducted by the village of Arlington Heights will begin May 5. Residents are asked to participate in this annual campaign for a cleaner community.

"Clean up . . . paint up . . . spruce up . . . and help keep the village spic and span" is the slogan for this year's drive

Residents should place rubbish (cans, bottles, etc.) in boxes, bags, and baskets or other containers at street curb. Ashes, stones, paper or tree brush cannot be handled.

Marshall Field & Co. to develop sportsman's farm in Schaumburg township

Plans to develop a sportsman's farm, the first of its kind anywhere, were announced here today by Marshall Field & Company as commercial rezoning was sought for the 170-acre tract recently purchased on Higgins rd., west of Jones rd.

The project will be called "Fielddale Farm," according to Harold J Nutting, vice-president and general manager of Field's.

It will provide facilities for trying out outdoor sports equipment complete with gun shop and shooting fields; firearm supervision and instruction, with emphasis on safety and gun etiquette, and a variety of shoots for the sportsman gunner who wants experience in the field.

The sports facilities will all simulate game shooting with clay targets. There will be no wild life shooting.

Existing buildings on the property will be remodelled and used. it was said. Restoration of cover for wild life will be carried out in cooperatin with the Illinois state department of conservation.

Fielddale Farm is scheduled to open prior to the fall hunting season.

Public Service Co. largest taxpayer in Wheeling township

Corporations, both local and foreign, pay a good slice of the local tax bill. This is particularly true in Wheeling township of the Public Service Co., which recently handed over to Collector Annen a check for $64,000.

That amount included its property on Foundry rd., in school district 26, over which there is considerable controversy.

The company owns nearly 400 acres south of Foundry rd. in Section 35. Its real estate tax is over $8,000. A personal valuation of $2,170,261 upon its underground installation cost the company this year $47,311.69 in taxes.

The personal property tax of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. this year in Wheeling township is in the neighborhood of $25,000. With the completion of its new dial building that amount is expected to double, which in turn will help pay for the education of many school children.

Rev. Luther V. Stephan, pastor of St. Peter church, Arlington Heights, laying cornerstone for new Lutheran activity building, assisted by Sam Whitton, superintendent of the construction being done by the Ranbor Construction company of Chicago. The service took place Sunday and was followed by a cafeteria dinner, at which 500 persons were served. The dinner was arranged by the Dorcas Aid. Community Camera

Reveal dividing line for Dryden Place and South school pupils

The board of education of District 25, Arlington Heights, set the dividing line between the areas to be served by the South school and the new Dryden Place school at its meeting April 23.

All kindergarten through fifth grade children south of the railway and east of State rd., as well as all children west of State rd. who live south of Central rd., will attend the Dryden Place school. Those pupils in kindergarten through fifth grade living south of the railway who are west of State rd. and north of Central rd. will attend the South school.

THE FACTORS considered by the board of education in making their decision were pupil population, distance from the school, and the barrier created by State rd. A careful study of the location of the present school population and next year's kindergarten indicated that the division of the district as adopted would make for an equitable division of students between the buildings. The area east of State rd. is, for the most part, closer to the new school than the present South school. In addition, it was felt that although State rd. served as a more or less natural dividing line, most of the pupils south of Central rd. are those who use bus transportation. Bus transportation will be planned for the new school when it opens in September.

The board of education is pleased with the progress on the Dryden Place school and feel certain that it will be ready for occupancy in September. With more than 600 pupils now being housed in the South school, which has accommodations for perhaps two-thirds of that number, completion will be most welcome. Indications are that all classrooms in the new building will be used next year.

Plans for two new buildings, one to make more junior high school facilities available and one to prevent serious overcrowding in the North school, are now being prepared. It is expected that this program will be presented to the citizens of the community at a referendum May 24.

Tax books close; late rush at offices

The tax books closed Thursday for the first installment of the 1951 real estate and all personal property tax bills.

The tax payers might have been slow to get started this year but they put on a finish that would do credit to old Whirlaway himself, jamming the county treasurer's office in Chicago and filling the local collectors' offices during the closing days.

Mail payments were particularly heavy and the local collectors' offices as well as the downtown office were swamped with mail in the late rush to beat the deadline.

Those who failed to make their payments on time now face a 1% a month penalty on the first real estate installment and on personal property bills.

The township collectors of this area wish to thank their tax payers for their loyal cooperation in making their payments at home, thereby helping out the taxing bodies, the township fund and the home collectors.

Second installments of the real estate tax are payable before September first, the penalty date, and the local collectors' offices will be open during August to receive these payments.

It was different in the good old days

Twenty years ago when Jake Schwingel of the village of Wheeling was township assessor, nobody escaped a personal property tax bill and they paid up.

A township collector, who held that office in those days, says that it was about this time of the year that good old Jake would knock on the door, introduce himself and ask, "what new furniture have you purchased? Oh, I see you have a piano, etc."

As collector of the 1920's had less than 50 tax delinquents. Today there are over 1,500.

This writer is leaning over backwards hereafter in an effort to avoid class distinction in Arlington Heights, so he will not say in what part of town the greatest offenders reside.

"It would not be so bad," said one official, "if those people from Chicago only laid down on their own tax payments. They advertise that fact and the personal property tax strike spreads.

BLOW OUT CAUSES CRASH; TWO INJURED

Two persons were injured Friday night when the auto in which they were riding overturned on Barrington rd., just north of Palatine rd.

Taken to Sherman hospital in Elgin were Howard Cannon, 32, of Zion, Ill., driver of the car, and Richard Nystrom, also of Zion, a passenger in the car.

Police said Cannon's auto overturned and struck a steep embankment when the driver lost control of the car after the left rear tire blew out.

Husband's plea causes bandit to leave home

A masked bandit forced his way into the Theo Glienke home on Hicks rd. near Palatine late Monday night, but left without obtaining any money.

According to members of the family, the would-be robber knocked at the door shortly after midnight, first asking directions to Northwest highway, and later asking the distance to Chicago.

THE GLIENKE'S daughter, Gertrude, answered the knock at the door, but was warned by her mother not to open the door.

A few minutes later, Mr. Glienke also went to the door and when the caller pretended he didn't understand the directions being called through the closed door, Mr. Glienke opened the door.

The man, holding a pistol in his hand with his face masked with a green handkerchief, demanded money .

THE DAUGHTER screamed that her mother had heart trouble and recently had returned from the hospital.

Mr. Glienke begged the man to go away, explaining that hospital bills had taken all of his money. The man left a few seconds later, running to his auto parked on the nearby highway. He drove south on Hicks rd.

The daughter described the man as being less than 30 years of age, five feet seven inches tall, weighing 140 pounds, wearing a tan fedora hat, a maroon shirt and gray trousers.

Cars badly damaged in two Heights accidents

Two accidents in Arlington Heights last week resulted in considerable damage to the autos involved, though personal injuries were not too serious.

The first accident occurred April 23 in front of 118 S. State rd. Donald Clancy, 1105 W. Wing, was driving a 1937 Ford south on State rd., when he struck the rear of an auto being driven by Roy F. Winkelmann, 65 N. Seventh st., Des Plaines. Winkelmann had just backed out of a driveway and was heading south when the Clancy auto struck his. The impact threw Winkelmann's 1950 Chevrolet back into the driveway, against a tree.

David Page, a passenger in the Clancy auto, received a slight concussion. The Ford was badly damaged and had to be towed from the scene.

John Randag Jr., 17, 623 N. Highland, escaped serious injury Friday night, when his auto collided with a parked car, went out of control and struck a tree in front of 1315 N. State rd.

Randag told the police he turned into the outer lane to permit another car to pass, and struck the parked car. The front end and windshield of his 1949 Chevrolet was badly damaged. John received a bruise on the right side of his head.

Dance to provide additional lungs for Mount Prospect and Wheeling

The Wheeling Township Jaycees will unveil and present the first temporary wooden respirator for use in the treatment of infantile paralysis at a benefit dance Friday, May 16 at Zur Alten Heimat.

Dancing from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. will be to the music of Howard Wendt of Elmhurst. Only bids are available and are $2. They may be purchased from any Jaycee member and will also be available in most places of business where posters are on display.

THE DANCE has been appropriately titled "The One Lung Hop" since its primary purpose is to raise funds for two more wooden lungs for the township. Work on the first lung has been progressing rapidly for the past two months in Arlington Heights high school's wood shop under the direction of chapter member John Griffith, high school shop teacher. Various chapter members have devoted Saturday mornings and evenings throughout the week to this project.

Jaycee chapters throughout the nation have been undertaking similar projects ever since the first one in Bloomington proved so successful. The purpose of the wooden respirator is for the temporary relief of infantile paralysis until an iron lung can be made available. The temporary lung possesses the tremendous advantage of being easily transportable, thus it can be brought immediately to the patient rather than having to bring the patient to it.

IT CAN ALSO be operated in the home by plugging it in to any ordinary home socket. The American Medical association and other leading medical authorities have given full approval and high praise for this nationwide Jaycee project.

President of the local Jaycees, Bruno Waara said, "We earnestly hope that many people will want to attend our dance not only for the music and fun but also because the receipts from the dance will provide the Wheeling Jaycees with funds necessary for the construction of additional wooden lungs and other worthy civic projects."

Announce Wing inquest to be held soon

An inquest into the death of Mrs. Virginia Wing, 29, of Arlington Heights, will be scheduled sometime within the next two weeks, according to McHenry county authorities.

Chief Deputy Harry Heeredeen of McHenry county said the inquest has been delayed to allow his office to complete their investigation.

"There are still a couple of possibilities to be checked," the officer said. He refused to elaborate further.

Mrs. Wing disappeared from her home Jan. 23 and her body was found nearly two months later in a slough off the old Algonquin rd. Her auto was found abandoned near the same spot the day after her disappearance.

Hauff new Heights CC secretary

Nelson F. Hauff, "Jimmie" to his friends, retired Wednesday from a job he has held more than 50 years, only to take on new responsibilities.

HE HAS BEEN elected secretary of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce. He will not roll up his sleeves for his new job until after Saturday when he will be the guest of honor at the Swedish club in an event being arranged by officials and fellow employees of Chicago & North Western railroad.

Jimmie has put in a lot of years in the accounting department of the railroad, but he is not yet ready to merely sit in a chair and watch the world go by.

He has been a resident of Arlington Heights more than 24 years, during which he served as village trustee. While he has not, in recent years, taken an active part in village affairs, the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce are of the opinion that he has the makings of a good secretary.

"AS A TAX PAYER and resident, he is one of us," says President John Kehe "and will have a personal interest in the welfare of the community." The other board members agreed with Kehe and thus the keys of the secretary's office have been turned over to "Jimmie."

The chamber has been without an active secretary several months and there are a lot of things for Hauff to do. His training over the past 50 years gives him a background that insures he will be an active secretary, which is what Arlington Heights business interests need.

There are more than 150 business firms upon which Mr. Hauff will make introductory calls. He hopes to be "Jimmie" to all of them.

Arlington police teach safety to school bike riders

Chief Skoog and Officer Johnson of Arlington Heights police force report that great interest is being shown by school children and adults who listen-in on the bike safety assemblies they are conducting in the Arlington Hts. school.

A 20-minute movie of Tommie Tucker's injury and trip to Heaven and back, is so impressive and few dry eyes are in the audience at the close of the film.

The entire program is designed to educate the bike riders of Arlington Heights to obey all road rules. "It is succeeding," says Chief Skoog.

Municipal bicycle tags, costing 50c for a two year period went on sale Monday morning. Every bike must be inspected by either Wink's Bike Shop or at the police station before a tag will be issued by the village.

A police message to Arlington Hts. parents

Arlington Heights police department and builders of new homes ask the cooperation of parents whose boys own air rifles.

Shooting at large windows has become such a pastime that boys apprehended will hereafter be taken directly to the juvenile court, say the police.

One Arlington Heights builder has paid out several hundred dollars to replace windows. Monday night a hole was put through a window at the Hefferan house, 22 S. State rd. when the lights were out as the family watched television.

Parents who allow their sons to own air rifles are as guilty as the boys and subject to heavy damages if injuries result.

Three boys recently arrested paid $32 for damages, fined $8 each and placed on six months probation. Confinement in the juvenile detention home will be accorded the next one arrested.

Set May 18 as date for high school dedication

LeRoy J. Knoeppel, superintendent of Arlington Heights township high school announced this week that the dedication of the new high school addition will take place May 18, at 3 p.m. Further details will be published next week.

Lying dead beside his auto following a collision last Thursday at Devon ave. and Arlington Heights road, just north of Itasca is Joseph Staroi of Chicago. The driver of the other auto, Henry E. Renwich, and his two passengers were injured.

Fewer weapons, but lots more fire power

An infantry division today has two per cent less weapons than it had in 1930. But the fire power increased 16 per cent from 1930 to 1940—and during the next ten years it increased nearly 130 per cent.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

One event that is sure to draw a capacity crowd, and does each year, is the annual PTA card party being held tonight, May 1, at South school gym and in the Junior high cafeteria. The guests, all of whom are supporting the PTA's various projects by their contribution and their presence invariably get their money's worth.

Tonight, for instance, there will be numerous special awards in addition to attractive table prizes. Because of the large number of men who join in the card playing, refreshments are substantial, sandwiches and coffee being the popular choice. In addition to the former which are included in the 75-cent admission charge, soft drinks and candy will be available.

Also on the program will be the popular quartet of actors from the Village Theatre who have appeared previously for several groups in Arlington Heights. They do their skit that is especially appropriate for this event, a takeoff on women playing cards.

Men's night out

Many men of the village were "out to dinner" Monday night, the evening the newly-organized local chapter of the National Council of Presbyterian Men held its charter night banquet at the church.

Membership in the local group, of which N. M. Lattof is president, is open to every man in the church. The council will undertake various projects in the church and coordinate the activities of the men.

It was not strictly a business meeting Monday, however, for the men heard a leading speaker, Dr. Luther Stine of the First Presbyterian church of Oak Park.

Coming—unless!

One of these days Arlington Heights will see a serious — and needless—bicycle accident. It will be serious because the riders seem to be becoming increasingly careless in their habits, and needless because a little attention to good bike riding practice would be almost 100% insurance that the accident wouldn't happen.

In the past several days we have seen two near-accidents neither of which would be even possible if good bicycle riding practice were observed. For the first, the youngster, of fifth or sixth grade age, was riding on the left hand side of the road instead of the right, and in the second case, two girls riding side by side divided—waveringly—one to the left and the other to the right as the car approached.

Ignorance of correct way to ride a bike is, of course, the basic trouble. Parents can help immeasurably by giving their boys and girls the rules and regulations, and being sure that they follow them. The Arlington police—more power to them—are cooperating to the fullest by handing out "tickets" for basic safety violations including, besides those mentioned above, failure to stop at lights and signs, no license, no signal device and reckless riding. Parents will be required to sign and return the ticket, indicating they have seen it.

If parents will do their part by instructing their children; if the police campaign is successful; if the boys and girls cooperate by following the rules and regulations; then only one thing remains to assure us a safe and sound town for bike riders—that the motorists pay special attention to these young people on their bikes: give them a break and be prepared to stop at every intersection. Then perhaps that serious accident will not be inevitable after all.

Radio winner

Mrs. A. M. Frazier, 914 W. Elm st., Arlington Heights, was a home entrant winner last week on WGN-TV's quiz show, Picture Payday. She was awarded a prize for her question which stumped a studio contestant. Picture Payday is viewed Monday through Friday at 4:30 p. m. and features Tommy Bartlett as the master of ceremonies.

What are Pre-Arrangement Plans?

Most thoughtful people make wills, arrange for pensions, or set up insurance plans far in advance of need. We suggest it is equally wise to order the type of funeral service you prefer and thus avoid extravagant decisions in time of grief. We invite your inquiry about our Pre-Arrangement Plan.

Automotive TV — Max Rhodes

A recent New York Times article carried the information that legislatures of 43 states have banner television from automobiles, four states will permit television not within the vision of the driver and one state is still studying the problem — with astonishment, no doubt.

The solons were just in time. Picture John Doe driving down the street minding his own and channel 4's business when his car is sideswiped by a motorist, engrossed in his own TV. Our innocent John Doe, instead of boiling out of his car livid with desire to hand his careless adversary a poke in the choppers, practically falls onto the pavement, helpless with mirth, (Berle channel No. 4) and blinded by tears of laughter is unable to read the license number of the disappearing offender. You can see why it was necessary to pass those laws now.

The four states which have okayed TV for riders in the back seat (not within vision of the driver) have put their seal of approval on an innovation that could materially affect one phase of the good old American way of life. Imagine the family sedan with a 10" TV screen installed in the back of the front seat. Junior, instead of clamoring to ride in front with Pop as he has for the past forty years, now piles through the back door with a desperate flurry of elbows and a rolling block on Sis and gains the seat in the middle. Mother, no longer riding sedately in front with father, now matches elbows with the small fry that she may not miss "Dairy Mary, A City Girl Makes Good on the Farm." Junior, who was counting on "Lopin' Lonzo of Laredo" contests his choice and Sis raises her voice for "From Ten to Teen Time." Father, trying to listen, albeit somewhat bitterly, to the news on a mere radio in the front seat, scatters pedestrians in his wake like a hook and ladder run amok, and finally winds up on a psychiatrist's couch, unable to keep up the pace of modern living.

Yes, sir, things are getting better all the time. At the beginning of this century, the motorist was treated to the beautiful but regretfully enough, unchanging, rural scenery. This was soon remedied by colorful billboards obscuring nature's passe phenomena. But even this palled and now American ingenuity has presented us with automotive television. Every second interesting — something new all the time. We don't even have to look at the billboards anymore. O, Progress!! O, Progress!

Adult speech students get diplomas following after dinner speeches

The speech class of Arlington Heights evening school met for their final session April 22. The wives and husbands of the students were also present, as the meeting was held at Simson's restaurant to provide suitable atmosphere for their last assignment — after-dinner speeches.

George Fillebrown was to have been toastmaster, but due to a sudden illness was unable to attend. Charles Flood acted as toastmaster and gave wonderful, impromptu introductions.

Those present were Arch Shaver Jr., Myron Weigle and Charles Flood of Mt. Prospect; Dorothy Barrett, Wollert Ellertson and George Rezner of Arlington Heights; Calvin and Eleanor Starkeson and Albert Bak of Palatine. Each felt he had benefited greatly from the course, and all showed great poise in the delivery of their speeches.

Instructor Clayton Mott surprised and pleased every one by presenting each student with a diploma, certifying completion of the course satisfactorily. Those also receiving diplomas, but unable to attend the dinner, were C. D. Balling of Wheeling, George Fillebrown and Edward Wahl of Arlington Heights.

"America is Everybody's Business" was the topic of these essays.

Extend time for installing gas heat in homes

The Illinois commerce commission has approved a slight modification in the gas restriction order of the Public Service company of Northern Illinois.

The changes, principally in the interest of clarification and simplification, include:

1. Twelve months time for authorized customers to install their gas furnaces instead of the present six months.

LIMITED availability of heating equipment and of skilled installers has prevented many customers authorized last December from installing their gas heat equipment by June, as required under the old order.

2. All future requests for gas heat to be made in writing on a form to be supplied by the company.

Previous requests have been permitted by letter, telephone or personal call. The new written request form will minimize the possibility of misunderstanding on the part of either the company or the customer as to date, address, etc.

3. A SIMPLIFIED method of allocating gas heat authorizations when and if additional gas becomes available.

The order sets forth a simplified and equitable method for handling future allocations as between existing homes and new homes built by individuals and project buliders. Allocations would be made according to the ratio of requests in each group based on dates of request.

In asking for continuation of the gas restriction order, the company reported that even though a large number of customers had been authorized in 1951 to install their gas furnaces, there was still a large number on the gas heat waiting list.

THE MANY authorizations last year were due to completion of the new Texas Illinois natural gas pipeline from the gulf coast of Texas to Joliet from which Public Service received an additional supply of gas.

All gas heat requests filed prior to September 1, 1951, have been authorized, it was stated.

Continuation of the restriction order, in effect since July, 1946, is necessary, it was said, until further additional supplies of gas become available. There was no indication as to when this might occur.

Primary vote is now official

The state electoral board has officially canvassed the results of the April 8 primary. Republicans who went to the polls totaled 1,397,356, Cook county 635,516. Those who asked for democratic ballots totaled 894,991 with 563,799 in Cook county.

Robert Taft received 935,867, Stassen 155,041, Eisenhower 147,518.

W. G. Stratton, candidate for governor, received 708,273, compared to 249,852 for Livingston and 226,444 for Rowe.

Down state voters gave Lee Daniels of DuPage Co., candidate for attorney general a lead of 25,000 over nearest opponent, but Cook county turned the tables by giving Latham Castle 213,147, compared to 77,023 for Daniels. The total state vote was Castle 330,692, Daniels 252,999, Browning 200,880, Noll 177,174 and Saltiel 164,955.

Hostesses for the day will be mothers of the first grade children. Mrs. Joseph B. Forester of Prospect Heights is chairman of this meeting.

Attends mathematics convention in Iowa

The National Council of teachers of mathematics convened in Des Moines, Ia., April 16-19 for the thirtieth annual convention. It was attended by mathematics teachers from the United States and Canada, and included those who taught in all grades through college.

Rod McLennan of the Arlington Heights high school faculty delivered an introductory talk to one of the discussion groups concerning the topic, "How Dynamic Can Geometry Become." The subject of the talk was the new program in geometry being conducted by McLennan in his classes.

He presented a resume of studies conducted by famous educators which supports the type of geometry being studied by Arlington students and continued by describing his method of instruction.

The four days of the convention were informative and consisted of speeches and discussion pertaining to trends and new concepts in mathematics education. The program was highlighted by a banquet and speech by Allan Orth, educational director for General Motors.

Give scholarships to Carol Kirkeley and Jack Lee

Annually the Arlington Hts. Woman's club awards art and music scholarships under the sponsorship of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs to the most deserving high school student in each of these subjects.

This year Carol Kirkeby is the recipient of the art scholarship. Carol is a 17-year-old senior at the Arlington Heights township high school and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Kirkeby, 511 S. Elmhurst rd., Mount Prospect. She will receive a week's instruction at the summer art school at Robert Allerton Park, Monticello, Ill. Her instructor at the high school is Miss Catharine Renich.

Jack Lee was awarded the music scholarship. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Lee, 608 S. Pine, Arlington Heights. Jack is a tenor and a member of the Madrigal Singers. He is 17 years old and a sophomore, studying music under Miss June Leick, who is director of the Madrigals. He was awarded a week at the Egyptian Music Camp at DuQuoin, Ill.

Presenting the Younger Generation

Miss Poo's Master

The smiling young man wearing a scotch plaid jacket is Freddie Postle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merton Postle of 826 N. Princeton, Arlington Heights. Blond and brown-eyed Freddie recently celebrated his fifth birthday.

Being out of doors with all the other boys and especially Miss Poo is Freddie's favorite pastime. Miss Poo is his much loved dog. Starting kindergarten in the fall is something Freddie is anticipating with delight. At present he is engrossed in watching his baby sister, Cynthia, who is just 2 weeks old. "He likes the baby," said Mrs. Postle, "but feels that she is too little."

Mr. and Mrs. George Young of Glencoe are maternal grandparents.

Little women

There is no doubt that little women run the Michael Hoggay household at 312 W. Wing st., Arlington Heights, with these four little girls and one baby brother representing the younger generation.

On either end we have a twin; Marsha on the left, and Michele on the right. The twins are five and one-half years old, have brown hair and blue eyes, and are attending the kindergarten at South school.

Second in line is Mary, a brown haired, blue-eyed, four and one-half year old. "All the girls love to dress up in old clothes, and occassionally enjoy a rousing game of tom-boy," said their mother. Just now the center of attraction is baby brother, Michael. He is eight months old and has dark hair and blue eyes.

Two and one-half year old Monica is third in line. She is the blondie in the family and also the "foreman." If Monica doesn't like something she doesn't hesitate to tell the rest of the family off!

Mrs. Anna Stoeckel, living with the family, is maternal grandmother. Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hoggay, Sr., of Arlington Hts. are the paternal grandparents.

For the past four fall and winter seasons the Arlington Heights Community Concert association, a non-profit civic organization, has brought to Arlington Heights outstanding musical entertainment. For example, this past season members were entertained by such well known artists as Gladys Swarthout, Bartlett and Robertson, Ossy Renardy and the Men of Song.

These four concerts afforded the membership the opportunity of hearing these internationally known artists right in their own community for the cost of $6 per membership for the four concerts.

DURING ONE week only, memberships are available to the Community Concert association. Memberships are open to everyone during this time.

The week of May 12 and until 4 p.m. May 17 everyone is invited to become a member, but after 4 p.m. no more memberships will be available until 1953.

Headquarters will be open from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. daily during that week at the Emerald Shop, 10 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights.

EACH AND EVERY member will be fully repaid in musical enjoyment during the 1952-53 season.

As an example of what is in store for the membership during this coming concert season, a date has been arranged to bring a 25-piece orchestra, a pianist and three vocalists to Arlington Heights to present a full evening of Gershwin music. This one concert alone is a reason to either renew memberships or to become a member for the first time.

By LOIS SEILER

One of the favorite recipes of Mrs. Earl MacNevin is one which she shares with us today for Date and Nut Bread.

This flavorful bread is very adaptable and can be used in many ways as a bread or as dessert. It is a delightful accompaniment for a luncheon, is delicious spread with cheese and served with afternoon coffee, or it serves very nicely as a cake.

Mrs. MacNevin received this recipe from a friend, who, in turn, received it from her grandmother. The MacNevins live in a lovely ranch home at 804 Bristol lane, Arlington Heights.

Arlington man to lead new TV program regarding 'educational television'

TV-Loyola, a new television series produced and moderated by an Arlington Heights resident, Norbert Hruby, 618 W. Campbell ave., is going on the air Friday afternoon, May 2, over WBKB.

Hruby, director of Loyola university's public information center, revealed the information that the eight-week series will outline the opportunities of educational television and will feature interviews with the Very Rev. James T. Hussey, S. J., Loyola's president, and other leading educators and interested experts.

"The public has the greatest stake in educational television," Dr. Hruby explained. "If the mistakes committed when radio was young are to be avoided, the public should have its say now when educational television is in the planning stage.

"But the public's comments will have weight only when it is completely informed of the background and the problems involved. TV-Loyola hopes to furnish this background."

IN THE FIRST fifteen-minute program, Father Hussey and Dr. Hruby will interview the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C. S. C., executive vice-president of the University of Notre Dame and a member of the working committee for an educational television network, and Ralph Steetle, executive director of the Joint Committee on Educational Television. The subject to be discussed is "Educational Television—Now or Never."

Prof. Dallas Smythe of the University of Illinois who recently conducted a monitoring survey of a full week of programs on all channels in New York and Los Angeles commercial television will be interviewed by Hruby on a program entitled "TV Panorama—1952."

Prof. H. B. McCarthy of the University of Wisconsin, a longtime leader in educational radio, will be featured on a session entitled "Educational Radio: Object Lesson."

"COMMERCIAL TV Can Help," with Milton Friedland of WBKB serving as the industry spokesman is also on the schedule..

Dr. Herold Hunt, superintendent of schools in Chicago, will appear in June to tell of the part public schools will play in educational television. The following week Mrs. Thomas H. Ludlow, president of the Illinois Parent-Teachers association, will appear on a program entitled, "Parents' View of Educational TV."

The June 20 program, last of the series, will be a sample show, a preview of the type of programs to be presented on educational television by Chicago colleges and universities. Members of Loyola's speech and drama department will assist Hruby in this presentation.

The program will be heard each Friday at 2:00 p. m. over WBKB.

New Aero Willys
Low and Wide...Big Inside...and It's Beautiful

IT HAS EVERYTHING YOU WANT IN A FINE CAR...

The comfort of a smooth, quiet air-borne ride . . . with road roughness and vibration soaked up by rubber-cushioned springs, aero-type shock absorbers and drive system floated on rubber pillows.
Interior roominess for six adults, with 61-inch-wide seating, front and rear.
"Take-off" performance with the new 90-h.p. 6-cylinder Hurricane Engine . . . 7.6 compression . . . uses regular gas.
Panoramic visibility . . . all 4 fenders can be seen from the driver's seat.
Aero-Design beauty . . . just 5 feet high . . . streamlined from its distinctive new plane-wing hood to the rear air-fins.
Record economy—up to 35 miles on a gallon of gasoline, with overdrive.

Come in and see America's only full-size car that gives up to 35 miles per gallon

One early invention they haven't changed

The American system of coins was devised by Thomas Jefferson over 160 years ago. The only major addition to his system is the nickel which at present bears his portrait and consists of 25 per cent nickel and 75 per cent copper.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That sin is destroyed when acknowledged and forsaken if practical repentance and reformation follow, will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 4. The title of the Lesson-Sermon is EVERLASTING PUNISHMENT.

The Golden Text is from Romans (6:16) "Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?"

Bible selections (King James Version) in the Lesson-Sermon, include these passages:

"Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God: and not that he should return from his ways, and live? . . . For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: wherefore turn yourselves, and live ye" (Ezek. 18: 26, 32).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"As adherents of Truth, we take the inspired Word of the Bible as our sufficient guide to eternal Life . . . We acknowledge God's forgiveness of sin in the destruction of sin and the spiritual understanding that casts out evil as unreal. But the belief in sin is punished so long as the belief lasts" (p. 497).

GENTLENESS

Thou hast also given me the shield of thy salvation: and thy gentleness hath made me great.
—II Sam. 22:36

Let gentleness my strong enforcement be.
—Shakespeare.

This also is proverbial, that though eternal justice be graciously gentle, yet it may seem severe.
—Mary Baker Eddy.

Gentleness brings victory to him who attacks, and safety to him who defends.
—Lao-Tsze.

Ever since 1928, May 1 has been designated nationally as child health day. Each year since that time, citizens, with the help of state and federal agencies, have used this day as the starting line for action to build better health for one group of children or another.

This year, child health day will focus attention on the many thousands of children in our country who have handicapping conditions. In the May issue of Life and Health, the national health journal, there is an interesting and informative article on cerebral palsy by Winthrop M. Phelps, M. D. Interesting pamphlets are published twice a month by the State of Illinois department of public health. Both of these publications are among the many available at your local library.

As a parent you will want to read "Fathers Are Parents, Too," by O. Spurgeon English, M. D. and Constance J. Foster. Are fathers necessary? This book refuses to take no for an answer to that question. It is too easy for the male of the household to slip into the habit of ranking business ahead of his children in importance. But, if father masquerades as tired businessman five days a week, plays golf on the sixth, and props up the Sunday paper between himself and his family on the seventh, he is failing to do his real job in life no matter how much money he makes. This book shows you how to inspire and encourage your child to make a successful adjustment to his future social and vocational responsibilities and become a useful, happy, fortunate individual.

"Keep Your Head Up, Mr. Putnam!" is a thoughtful, revealing story of personal experience that has more than ordinary significance. When Peter Putnam lost his sight he gained an inner knowledge that helped him to revalue life. The main part of this story tells of Mr. Putnam's experience at the famous seeing eye school in Morristown, N. J. There he was trained as a proper friend and master for the guide dog, Minnie. And there he learned to view the consequences of his accident as continuously challenging, but never tragic.

A fascinating stereoscopic view of yesterday has been wholly recaptured by Clifford Dowdey in "Jasmine Street," a brilliant new novel tracing, through the spiritual pilgrimage of Paul Carrick, the story of America the past 50 years. In January of 1900 Paul was born into a shabbily genteel family residing in a small Southern city. His mother was ambitious for her son and, over the protests of a rough, explosive husband, moved successively to Jasmine street and finally to the fashionable square. In these locations Paul spent a happy, uncomplicated childhood, made the school football team, and learned the facts of life. After finishing high school, Paul went away to war. When he returned from France he went to New York to seek his fortune. "Jasmine Street" ends with a chord of optimism, for such is in keeping with the personalities of those who inhabit this novel.

Sues Northbrook in zoning appeal for industrial use

Frank and Robert Garrigan, owners of vacant property, consisting of about 17.63 acres, located at Dundee road and the right-of-way of the Chicago and North Western railroad, in Northbrook, Friday filed suit in Circuit court against the village of Northbrook.

They asked that the court declare that a village ordinance of 1950, zoning part of the property for single family, 30,000 square feet, and part for single family, 7,500 square feet, be declared unreasonable and void.

In January of this year the Garrigans had asked the village to rezone the property from single family residence to industrial, according to the suit.

They claimed that the "real estate has no value as zoned for residential purposes," but has a great value and demand for industrial use, in view of the fact that the track of land is bisected by a railroad right of way.

They alleged that real estate adjoining the property is used for greenhouse purposes, some is used as part of a private golf course, and some for the auto wrecking business.

AIDS IN ARITHMETIC

by DANA QUINN

Oftentimes you hear young children rattle off the fact that two and two are four. But did you ever stop to consider that a real understanding of even this simple notion requires a number of concepts? Only after a child knows what the figure 2 stands for is he able to put two groups of two together to get 4.

These concepts, as well as more complex ones, are more easily and thoroughly understood if their teaching is accompanied by the use of pictures and objects.

The idea that 5—3=2 is easily grasped when three buttons are taken away from a group of five, as is the fact that two-fourths equal one-half when two-fourths of a pie plate are superimposed on a half.

FOR THIS REASON, if you were to visit schools today, you would note many charts and concrete objects being used in the teaching of arithmetic, especially in the primary grades.

Just a few samples of what you might see in a first-grade classroom are blocks, marbles, sticks, doll-house furniture and other small objects being manipulated by individual children to make number "stories," such as 10—4 or 2+3, using groups of objects to represent figures.

You might also find pegboards or a simple abacus designed to teach the meaning of numbers. You would observe charts showing rabbits, leaves, or balls in groups of two, three, etc., giving a concrete picture of numbers.

Bundles of pencils or sticks are often employed as an aid to showing place value. To demonstrate, for example, that the figure "1" in 15 really stands for ten, the number 15 is shown as being made up of one bundle of ten plus five single pencils.

Wooden blocks of various sizes are used from the teaching counting in the kindergarten to the teaching of fractions and volume in the upper grades.

PAPER PIE PLATES, utilized more extensively in education than intended by their inventor, have invaded the field of arithmetic, too, and may be seen as clocks with movable hands, made and used by the children. They may be seen painted and cut into fractional parts or in devices such as the game "Spino" for "painless" drill.

Milk bottles and cartons in various sizes show graphically the differences in liquid measures. Most probably, at some time you would watch children actually working with water to find out for themselves how many half-pints fill a quart.

In other grades you would see plastic "fraction trainers" and graphs, as well as speedometers and thermometers, both cardboard and real.

CHANGE PADDOCK GOLF CLASSES TO TWO NIGHTS A WEEK

Winning the Palatine Relays was just another event in a big year for Lake Forest high school in sports. They won the football championship of the North Suburban conference, tied with Crystal Lake for the basketball title, and now coaches Ed Lindenmeyer and Art Serfling have the Palatine Relays to add to their collection. Bernie Prais who ran wild on the gridiron for Lake Forest was a one man show at the Palatine Relays where he broke the individual scoring record by scoring 21 points.

Ottawa came to Palatine Relays for more than the Ride Saturday

When a team decides to travel a long distance to enter a track meet for the first time it is usually a sign of danger. Ottawa entered the Palatine Relays in class "A" for a purpose and they took home the trophy. This Saturday they will go after another at DeKalb where a new relay meet for schools under 1000 enrollment will be held. Locally Palatine will be an entry at DeKalb.

No better job for junior high boys than caddying

Caddying is one of the best summer jobs for boys from 12 to 18 interested in outdoor work and sports. Fresh air, good pay, light work, a good class of people to work for, and a chance to learn one of the best of the recreational sports characterize caddying. For the boy under 16 to whom so many kinds of work are closed due to age limitations, caddying at a private golf club is one of the best work opportunities.

Fine early spring weather has the golfers out in droves at the neighboring courses with the season due to be in full swing this coming week end. Every suburban community has a private golf club nearby where boys are needed especially on week ends until school is out and then on ladies' days, holidays, and special events during the week.

Loss of hurdler jolts Wauconda's chances

Wauconda's track chances in the Palatine Relays and remaining meets were given a severe jolt by a shoulder dislocation suffered by Arne Moestue. As so many careless injuries occur Moestue was playing tag with another Wauconda boy while waiting around the infield at the Palatine Relays when he fell and was injured. His loss hurt their hurdle shuttle chances and may handicap the Bulldogs in their bid for the conference track title. Wauconda, victor over Barrington recently by some 20 points, is expected to be a real threat to Palatine's reign as king pin in Northwest conference track.

Relay team missed Fred Cochran

The failure of Fred Cochran to run on Barrington's two mile relay team probably cost the Bronchos a first place in the event at the relays Saturday. Barrington track chances are hurt plenty with this outstanding 880 and mile runner out of competition.

Bob Nolan in news for reason other than athletic prowess

Bob Nolan of Wauconda did something at the Palatine Relays which deserves mention, and it was not his 49 foot, 11 inch shot put which gave him first place. Nolan also had taken third in the discus and tied for third in the high jump. When four boys drew lots for the third, fourth, and fifth place medals, Nolan got the fifth and Kennedy of Antioch was left out. The official scorer tells us that Nolan gave his medal to Kennedy, remarking he already had two medals anyway.

No school for golfers May 9

We certainly do not approve of the decision of the state association to have the district golf tournaments on a school day and cause the players to miss a full day of classes. They say they cannot get a course any more on Saturday and that is probably correct in this area. Anyway, the district to which Arlington Heights and Palatine belongs will find the teams teeing off at 9 a.m. Friday, May 9, at Mount Prospect country club, one of the best of the area daily fee layouts. Maine township is the host school for the tournament. We like the chances of Arlington Heights, Highland Park, and Waukegan in this tournament.

Bronchos still have Indian sign on Northwest opponents

After Barrington dropped six straight baseball games we began to think the win cycle was running out for the Bronchos but in the conference opener Tuesday they trounced Northbrook, 20-4. Barrington may lose outside but in the Northwest conference it looks like they are going to have the Indian sign on the rest of the schools in baseball as well as basketball and football right down to the end of the year when they leave the league for tougher competition.

The exception, however, is track. In the conference Wauconda has beaten the Barrington varsity and Bensenville the frosh-sophs.

Eight team circuit developing for summer baseball

It begins to look like the summer baseball league will be an eight team circuit with a southern and northern division. Libertyville has decided not to play and this will leave Elgin, Dundee, Barrington, and Palatine in the south and Woodstock, Harvard, Hebron, and Antioch in the north.

Baseball team loses best hitter at Palatine

Palatine baseball chances took a real setback when it was announced by doctor's orders that Paul Schrage, star hitter, infielder, and pitcher could engage in no activities for two months which involved running. Baseball and track being running sports Paul will have to sit out a long time to rest a thigh injury. Schrage was a .400 hitter last year on the varsity team as a sophomore.

The Pirates open the conference season Friday in a crucial home game with Bensenville's Bisons, the current favorite to cop the league championship.

Horse show dates

The second annual invitation horse show of Knollwood club will be held Saturday and Sunday, September 13 and 14 instead of June 14 and 15 as recently announced.

Two veterans for Bison golf

Bensenville high school's 1952 golf team is expected to be built around two returning veterans, Dan Silianoff and Warren Luebking. Candidates for vacant spots include several rising underclassmen, Joe Masotti, Barry Paulsen and Jack Woolley, plus a group of impressive freshmen, Coach Ray Wile reports.

BAD WEATHER caused cancellation of four early matches scheduled for the BCHS boys. Called off were duels with Antioch (two), Arlington Heights and York. The Bisons were slated to try again Wednesday as host team for Northbrook.

Remaining games set are: May 1, Barrington; May 7, at Glenbard; May 9, Palatine; May 12, triangular match with Northbrook at Barrington; May 18, at Palatine; May 26, conference tourney at Palatine, and May 28, Arlington Heights.

Northwest Towns sportsman club to meet next Thursday

Next meeting of the Northwest Towns sportsman club will be held May 6 at 8 p. m. at the Legion hall, Chicago avenue, Palatine. Entertainment will include an archery demonstration by Ernie Root of the American archery company and a movie about raising horses. Refreshments will be served.

Some members have been smet fishing in Lake Michigan with success, details of which will be revealed at the meeting. The club is holding an archery shoot May 13.

Discus expert

Gassen photo

Dick Winterbauer, Arlington Heights sophomore, is proving to be Coach Russ Attis' big gun in the field events. He brought in the only seven points scored in the field events by the local school in the Palatine Relays Saturday, taking third in the shot and second in the discus.

District golf meet next week at Mt. Prospect

District golf tournament will be held at Mt. Prospect country club, it was learned this week, with play slated to be held Friday, May 9. Maine will be host in the meet, starting at 9 a. m. The IHSA established the Friday date, due to lack of available courses on Saturdays.

Arlington finished second last year to New Trier in district play. There is no limit to number of boys competing from a school, though coaches are urged to consider only those shooting under 90.

Urge women to pick their best night, either Tuesday or Thursday

Free instruction slated to start next week at Arlington Country club for teenagers, too

Registration of 102 golfers for the free golf classes sponsored by Paddock Publications' sports department has caused a change from one class a week to two, it was announced by golf pro Dan Taggart this week. The century mark in registrations was passed Tuesday morning, indicating a probable attendance of about 150 women and high school golfers.

Originally plans called for lady golfers to be present Tuesday nights for four sessions, starting May 6, at Arlington country club. Group instruction was to be given free of charge. High school golfers were to appear Thursday nights. Both sessions will start at 7 p.m.

BUT WITH poor response from high school students, only about a dozen registering, class managers decided to make both nights for either lady golfers or high school duffers. Just how the division could be made was the big question.

It was suggested initials of the ladies' last names determine when they should appear for instruction with A-L showing up Tuesday evenings, and M-Z Thursday nights. This rule is not binding however, in case certain women golfers wish to go in groups without regard to initials, or if it is more convenient to go either one or the other times.

THE MAIN JOB of the class is to improve the golf of some of the women present for instruction, and to acquaint the public with the newly renovated Arlington country club. Golf teacher Dan Taggart has issued a challenge to all women to come out, regardless of where they live, what their last names are, or whether they have filled out the blank in the paper or not.

Taggart has had a good many years experience teaching the finer points of the game, including helping start the golf schools in Chicago. He believes, though, that women taking the instruction can get the most out of the classes by practicing while they study. He has offered special rates of just 50 cents a round for Monday through Friday mornings, prior to 11 a.m. for all lady golfers as an inducement for them to practice what they learn while it is fresh in their minds.

PLAN OF INSTRUCTION includes four steps. First evening instruction will concentrate on the grip. Too many golfers hang on to the club as if it was going to run away, when it should be held lightly by the finger tips.

Second night Taggart will demonstrate backswing. The third week the follow through will be shown, while the fourth and final night will include all three steps.

In case of rain any of the nights, the class of that night will be extended another week. The Arlington country club is located on Dundee rd., route 68, about halfway between Arlington Heights road and route 83. In case of questions regarding possible postponement of any of the sessions women golfers can call Taggart at Wheeling 167.

Wrestling letter

Twenty-eight letters for winter sports were awarded at Northern Illinois state teachers college in DeKalb.

Wrestling letters went to Northern's IIAC championship team of eight men. The three individual champions among them included Bob Schulze, Arlington Heights.

Busy days for track, baseball, golf and tennis

These are busy days at local high schools particularly at Palatine and Arlington Heights wheer track, baseball, golf, and tennis teams, both varsity and yearling, are seeing plenty of action.

At Arlington there are currently about 20 contests a week. The varsity baseball team plays at Hinsdale this Thursday, May 1, entertains Niles Monday, and travels to Downers Grove Thursday of next week. The Cards are currently in fourth place with Downers leading the loop.

Yearling baseball gets under way this Thursday with Coach Bus Ormsbee taking the frosh-sophs to Elgin, while the frosh were set to open at Leyden Wednesday of this week.

THE TRACK TEAM at Heights was slated to play host to Wauconda Thursday of this week, compete Saturday in the Hinsdale relays, then oppose Glenbard and Riverside in both varsity and frosh-soph divisions at Riverside Tuesday afternoon.

Both varsity and frosh-soph tennis teams, coached by Ray DeGreeff were scheduled to entertain LaGrange this Thursday, travel to Hinsdale Tuesday and move over to Downers Grove next Thursday.

Coach Larsen's golfers had Maine in their sights at Old Orchard this Thursday with a triangular at Palatine with the Pirates of both Proviso and Palatine slated for Friday. Monday the locals will compete at York and entertain Leyden Tuesday.

FOR PALATINE the league baseball schedule gets under way with Coach Claude Bailey's boys meeting championship-bound Bensenville, mentored by Tom Meneguin. The "experts" pick the Bisons as the team to beat in coming baseball wars.

The frosh-soph nine competes at Antioch Saturday morning and will meet Niles on the local diamond Wednesday.

Mac's golf team plays host to Arlington Heights and Proviso Friday, travels to Northbrook Monday, entertains New Trier and LaGrange Wednesday, and goes down to Bensenville next Thursday, May 8.

Coach Dick Welty's runners compete against Bensenville and Antioch in a dual on the Pirate track Thursday, May 1, then run Saturday in the DeKalb relays. Both varsity and frosh-soph divisions entertain Niles Wednesday.

Sophomore Bob Turner shot his second hole-in-one Monday afternoon while his teammates were beating Riverside at Old Orchard country club, 5-3. It was Bob's second ace in three years. This time it was the fourth hole at Old Orchard, 140 yards. Bob is 16 years old.

Ottawa sweats, but Lk. Forest takes Relays title in stride

Lake Forest and Ottawa ended the reigns of Mooseheart and Arlington Heights by taking the "B" and "A" divisions of the twentieth annual Palatine Relays held last Saturday at Ost Field in Palatine. Thirty-four schools had competitors in the meet for a record field and the "B" class group numbering 25 schools had the edge in winning marks over the "A" schools in nine events out of thirteen.

Two records fell by the wayside in the "B" division. Lake Forest's quartet of Tom Grant, Dale Baldwin, Charles Gustafson, and Bernard Prais ran the 320 yard high hurdle shuttle relay in :44.4 for a new mark. Naperville's 400 yard low hurdle shuttle team was clocked in :48.2 with Ronald Haidu, James Dombroski, James Brown, and Tom Drake the runners. Both marks erased from the books were ones held by Palatine, the host school.

All the new "B" class field event marks will be records as this is the first year these events have been run in separate classes. It was a good year for such a division as the "B" marks were better than the "A" in four of five events. Meek of Hall township threw the discus 149 feet 11 inches, Bernard Prais of Lake Forest high jumped five feet ten and three-quarters inches, Anderson of Geneseo pole vaulted 12 feet and a quarter of an inch, and Wuchte of Mooseheart broad jumped 21 feet 3½ inches for the new "B" marks.

Lake Forest's one-sided victory an upset

Lake Forest upset the dope somewhat in beating Mooseheart by such a sizeable margin as 21 points with 59½ to Mooseheart's 38½. Palatine, always a contender, was third with 34. Last year the Pirates were second but weakness in the sprint 440 and 880 relays hurt Palatine's chances. Wauconda did not come up to expectations in the relays, an injury to Moestue cutting their effectiveness in the hurdles. Naperville was another team which did not show to as great an advantage as expected.

Bill Lynk sparks Heights nine to Riverside win 5-3

Bill Lynk, Cardinal shortstop, came up with a startling bit of defensive ball-handling to spark the Arlington Heights nine to their third West Suburban victory in a 5-3 win Thursday over Riverside on the victor's field.

Bob Simmons who now has counted for all three Cardinal victories, relieved Tom Meyer after four innings to gain credit for the win.

Arlington played errorless ball.

Meyer gave up three hits, struck out three and gave up a similar number of passes. Simmons allowed three hits, struck out two and issued two walks. Fabian Bayay, relieved in the sixth by Bob Sejka, was losing pitcher. He allowed four hits, struck out five and issued six walks.

ARLINGTON scored in the first and third innings. The losers got their markers in the first and fourth frames.

In the first inning, Ron Grace, Cardinal lead-off man, struck out. Wayne Hesch and Hans Schmidt walked. John Eakins, batting in the cleanup spot, was safe on an error and Hesch scored. Schmidt scored on an error on a relay throw and Eakins romped to third base. Jim Intravartolo banged out a single to score Eakins. Lynk pounced out to Damore and Herb Gorder walked, but was stranded when Gene Dassonville struck out.

IN THE FIFTH Schmidt beat man, Hesch, struck out. He out a bunt after the lead-off went to second on Eakins' single. Intravartolo forced Eakins at second (Jenca to Simmons) and Schmidt went to third on the play. Lynk walked to fill the bases. Schmidt and Trav scored on Leon Nolte's single. Dassonville struck out to end the inning.

In the top half of the first inning, the Riverside's Bayag was safe on an error by Grace after Vojta, the leadoff man, had struck out. Jenca walked. Meinhart hit a hot grounder to Lynk who whirled and cut off Bayag at third. Meinhart and Jenca scored on Damore's triple. Damore was stranded on third when Hirst grounded out.

IN THE FOURTH frame, Riverside tied the score after two were out. Knoepple walked, stole second and took third on a wild throw. He scored after Vojta beat out a slow infield roller.

The losers' rally was cut-off in the last inning by Lynk's outstanding play. Meinhart walked and was advanced to third by Damore's single. Damore was safe at second on a bad throw from Hesch to Lynk. On the next play, Hirst, Riverside catcher, hit a sharp grounder over second, but Lynk went way behind the base, nabbed the ball and tossed it to Dassonville to end the game.

IN THE SECOND inning, Lynk stabbed a ball that caromed off Simmons' glove and threw out the runner. In the following inning Lynk took a grounder off Jenca's bat and stepped on second to force Bayag who singled, and hurled the ball to first for the double play.

Lynk broke his glasses on the play and had to have a small cut over his eye taped before able to continue play.

Niles golfers trip Palatine five, 8½-6½

Niles beat Palatine, 8½ to 6½, in close matches at Bunker Hill golf course last Friday. Palatine put up better competition against Niles than was expected for the Skokie team lacked only one man from the strong 1951 outfit. "Tinker" Meyer and "Chuck" James shot brilliant 77 scores for Palatine with the best competitive rounds of high school golf they have ever played.

Last Wednesday Palatine shut-out McHenry in a five-man, nine hole match. Nine hole scores for Palatine were Abramson 43, James 44, McElroy 45, and Meyer and Smith 46.

Coe relays starter

Ralph Martin of Cedar Rapids has been named starter for the sixth annual Coe college relays at Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 3.

Martin, a 1937 graduate of Coe, held the Midwest conference pole vault record of 12 ft. 11¾ inches until it was broken two years ago by Jerry Donley of Beloit college at 13 ft. 2½ inches.

Triple play aids Glenbard in first ball win of year

Aided by a triple play in the fifth inning that stalled a Hinsdale rally, Glenbard's baseballers finally shook off their losing streak as they tumbled the Red Devils, 9-6, for their first conference win of the season Thursday. Dick Whitehead went the full route for the Hilltoppers to chalk up his first win against as many losses.

Whitehead got off to a slow start but picked up in the middle innings as he walked eight and struck out eight.

Pacing the Bards were Dick Ebling, Harold Corrigan, Ronnie Willis, and Frank Slater. Ebling smashed a double over the centerfielder's head in the third frame to put the Bards out in front for keeps. Ebling rapped another liner deep into center in the sixth, but the Devil fly chaser was wary to Ebling's power and made the catch.

STARTING WITH a few bases on balls, pitcher Whitehead gave up three runs in the initial frame although hampered by two errors on the part of his own team.

However, the Bard hurler settled down in the next two innings as the Hilltoppers pushed across a run in the next innings when Frank Slater slammed a triple down the right field line. Bauer of the Devils loaded the bases and forced Slater in when he gave up his third straight walk.

The Hilltoppers kept their rally going in the third frame, as they tallied three times. With two away in the third, four consecutive base blows climaxed with Ed McCrary's single was enough to give the Bards a winning margin. With Harold Corrigan and Dick Weichenhain aboard in the fourth frame, Ebling clouted his base-clearing blow to set the Bards way out in the lead.

THE HILLTOPPERS padded their lead with a pair of runs in the fifth as McCrary, Hollenbeck and Corrigan each hit safely to wind up the local scoring.

Just to show the potency of Glenbard's defense, they turned in a triple play, the first recorded in the WSC this spring, when Spramer sent a line drive at second-baseman Ed McCrary. McCrary relayed it to Dick Weichenhain who tagged second and the runner advancing to second.

Two wins, tie and a loss for Heights golfers past week of competition

Two victories, a loss and a tie—that is the record of Arlington Heights high school golfers this past week. The locals lost to Waukegan Thursday, 7-3, beat Joliet Friday, 8-7, trimmed Riverside Monday, 5-3, and tied Niles Tuesday, 7½-all.

Outstanding match of the week was the Joliet affair held at Old Orchard Friday when Coach Larsen's charges edged the same team (with the exception of one boy) that went to the state finals last year.

Grant Skelton was a surprise starter for Arlington when pulled from the practice green and inserted against number two Falk of Joliet at the last minute. He answered the dare with the best round of his life, an 81 good for 2½ points.

Tang A, 74, beat Pellegrini J, 75, 2½-½.
Grant Skelton A, 81, beat Falk J, 85, 2½-½.
Rascher A, 74, lost to Pell J, 72, 1-2.
George Skelton A, 79, split with Slack J, 79, 1½-1½.
LeMay A, 83, lost to Nuessbaum J, 82, ½-2½.

THURSDAY both varsity and frosh-sophs lost to Waukegan, 7-3 and 4½-3½, at Glen Flora country club. Time was short, necessitating just nine holes. Competition was match for nine holes, medal for the other point.

In the varsity:
Tang A, 39, beat Brewer W, 43, 2-0.
Hauff A, 46, lost to Knutee W, 44, 0-2.
Rascher A, 48, split with Bauer W, 48, 1-1.
George Skelton A, 48, lost to Nira W, 42, 0-2.
LeMay A, 49, lost to Foster W, 42, 0-2.

Frosh-sophs:
Goodman A, 49, beat Glozowsky W, 53, 2-0.
Grant Skelton A, 46, beat Shucks W, 48, 1½-½.
Alton A, 52, lost to Saunders W, 46, 0-2.
Hacker A, 51, lost to Hiner W, 53, 0-2.

AGAINST RIVERSIDE Arlington copped its first match in its defense of the West Suburban golf crown captured last year. The locals were victorious, 5-3, at Old Orchard country club.

New system of scoring for conference matches gives one point for total low score for each match. In case of a tie the total for the entire team would be added with low total giving that team an extra point.

All conference matches include eight boys, including at least three freshmen or sophomores.

Tang A, 75, beat Van Cura R, 77, 1-0.
Hauff A, 87, lost to Bueckma R, 85, 0-1.
Rascher A, 81, beat Conforti R, 89, 1-0.
George Skelton A, 79, lost to Voyda J, 77, 0-1.
LeMay A, 81, beat Altheide R, 92, 1-0.
Thomson A, 81, beat Bruhl R, 92, 1-0.
Grant Skelton A, 94, lost to O'Brien R, 88, 0-1.
Goodman A, 85, beat Lundbra R, 97, 1-0.

AT BUNKER HILL country club Arlington fought Niles to a standstill, 7½-all. Hauff finally began to come through with golf of which he is capable when he shot a 75.

Tang A, 78, beat Del Corobral N, 82, 2-1.
Hauff A, 75, beat Cornell N, 80, 2½-½.
Rascher A, 82, lost to Muskat N, 81, 0-3.
George Skelton A, 86, beat Tawse N, 94, 3-0.
LeMay A, 105, lost to Harrod N, 76, 0-3.

Bison frosh-sophs trim Broncs but lose to Leyden trackmen

IN THE 100 yard dash, Poor of the Bisons jumped ahead of Soos and Napier to win at 11.5 seconds. Kauffman showed good form in the 440 yard dash to place first. Winning time was 60.8 seconds.

P. Cuatrecasas ran the 100-yard low hurdles to win in 12.6 seconds. Long placed third. Poor, winner of the 100-yard dash, took first also in the 220-yard contest. Winning time was :25.4.

Kauffman ran the 880-yard dash in 2:18 to place first. In pole vault competition, P. Cuatrecasas topped the bar at nine feet to beat out Barrington's Renshaw. He showed winning form again in the high jump to win over his opponents, going 4'10". In the broad jump, Cuatrecasas fell to second. Napier of Barrington was the winner spanning 18 feet five inches.

BARRINGTON bettered the Bisons in the 440-yard relay with a 1:51.4 time.

Ewerling won the discus throw for the Bisons, and Walsh added points with his third place efforts in the same competition. Walsh also took third place in the shotput class.

POOR BETTERED his mark against Barrington by one second to win the 100-yard dash. Winning time was 11.4 seconds. P. Cuatrecasas shaved a second off his Thursday's performance to place first in the 100-yard low hurdle match. His time was :12.5.

Kauffman slowed down in the 880 yard match but was still good enough to win first place. Winning time was 2:24.

P. Cuatrecasas bettered his pole vault and high jump marks of Thursday to gain first place honors in both contests. Pole vault mark was 10 feet. His high jump span was five feet.

Ask Your Friends About Arlington Country Club

Yes, ask some of the many who have already played the semi-private links of Arlington Country Club this Spring and you'll hear the story of a truly sporty course that is organized and managed for the most convenience for all.

Our free golfing school for the ladies and high school students, in conjunction with the Paddock Publications, has already attracted more than one hundred participants. The school will run one evening a week for four weeks, with your choice of either Tuesday or Thursday evenings. Also, any woman may play before 11 a. m. on week days for 50c.

There is still time for clubs, companies and other relatively small leagues to make reservations for the coming season in addition to those interested in reserving tournament playing time.

Glenbard 2nd at Wheaton

Placing in every event except three, Glenbard's cindermen turned in their top performance of the current season as they captured second place in the Wheaton Relays with 52 points.

Host school Wheaton clinched the Class B title while Oak Park won the Class A title with 46¾ points.

The Hilltoppers took two firsts in the meet. Tom Peters threw the discus 136 feet 6¼ inches to beat Wheaton's John Schmitt. The Sprint Medley Relay team, composed of co-captains Al Harp and Chuck Wertz and Tom Mueller and Ronnie Walker, took home trophies from the meet as they ran the relay in 2:58.8. Highland Park was disqualified after they finished ahead of the Bards as officials ruled the 352 yard sprinter for Highland Park had cut off Wertz as he went into the first turn.

THE BARDS were inches away from another first when Stanford from Wheaton Academy edged Al Harp as he leaped 20 feet two inches, a half inch better than Harp's jump.

An upset in the low and high hurdle shuttle relays, Glenbard's quartet of runners was only a second behind Hinsdale's famed hurdles in both events. It was a nip-and-tuck fight for second place in the shuttles. In the highs Wheaton barely edged the Hilltoppers while in the lows the Bards were one-tenth of a second faster than the Tigers. Peters, Ford and Griesheimer ran both the highs and the lows while Goldner completed the quartet in the highs and George in the lows.

The Bards, composed of Mueller, Hoyer, Clarke, and Wertz, gathered in six points as they took third in the medley.

Tom Hill rang up another first for the Hilltoppers when he ceared the bar at 11 feet two inches, but the pole vault was put in a deadlock when Moyers from Hinsdale and Appleman from University High also cleared the bar at the 11'2" mark.

TOM PETERS, who ran in five track events and competed in two field events, finished his work for the day as he took fifth place in the shot put when he heaved the 12 pound ball 46 feet.

The Frosh relay of Hein, Helledy, Moulds, and Sylvester captured third place in the Freshmen relay to add six more points to Glenbard's total.

Although no records were set in the Class B division, three records fell in the Class A competition. An anticipated record-breaker, Cal Boyd, cleared the high jump bar at 6'2⅞" to better his '51 mark of 6'2 1/8".

Norm Altenhoff from Proviso duplicated the record-breaking feat by hitting 12'7¾" to break Dean McKown's record of 12'7".

LaGrange's two-mile relay squad also established a new relay mark.

Bernard Prais sets Relays record with 21 points

Lake Forest scored 40 points in the relays alone, enough to win the meet. The Scouts won the 880 relay, frosh-soph 440 yard relay, and the high hurdle shuttle. They also took second in the low hurdle shuttle and a fifth in the two mile relay.

Bernard Prais led Lake Forest with the top individual scoring of the day. Prais won the 100 in which teammate Harris took second, won the high jump and took second in the broad jump. He ran on three relay teams which won two firsts and a second. In all, Prais scored 21 points, a record individual total for the meet.

Pirates won the two mile relay

Palatine made a very fine showing in four relays. The Pirates won the two mile relay handily, took second in the mile and high hurdle relays, and a third in the low hurdle shuttle. Gerry Herrmann, Jim Vogt, Harold Reeve, and Paul Hess ran the two mile event. Walter Grever got Palatine's only points in the individual events with a fourth in the discus. Palatine failed to place in either of the frosh-soph or the 880 relay. A dropped baton in the frosh-soph event proved fatal to their chances.

Ottawa's strength in individual events won the meet

Ottawa's all-round strength and particularly their field event performances gave the downstate team a closer 56-51 edge over Arlington Heights. The latter team, coached by Russ Attis, got the maximum expected of them in point or a bit more, but Ottawa's 25 points in individual events was too much of a handicap for the Cards.

Arlington scored 41 in relays and 10 in the individual events while Ottawa was getting 29 in relays and 27 in the other events. Ottawa got firsts in the broad jump, 100 yard dash, discus, and high jump along with two thirds and a fourth. They won the final 880 relay event, tied for first in the low hurdle shuttle with Arlington, got a second in the high hurdle shuttle and a fifth in the mile relay. Severson of Ottawa won the 100 and broad jump and ran on three relay teams for a total of 16½ points to top all class "A" scorers.

Cards outscore all teams in relay events

Winterbauer took a third in the shot with 46 feet 3 inches and a second in the discus with 137 feet, and Roberts was fourth and Barkhausen fifth in the 100 yard dash for Arlington's individual points. The Cards won three relays and took thirds in two others for the best relay performance in either class. Theis, Kent, Shipman, and Shields ran on the winning low hurdle shuttle team. Werner, Malcomson, Glueckert, and Frisk took the frosh-soph relay. Hawk, Klink, Ragland, and Ellis won the two mile event.

Going into the final event Arlington Heights led by five points but Ottawa won the final 880 yard relay while Arlington's quartet was too slow to place in the event, due mainly to a dropped baton.

Egly, Coach Trapp's one man track team, took two places for the Bensenville Bisons when he captured second in the high jump and fourth in the 100 yard dash. Bob Nolan was the best scorer among Northwest conference boys as he got 9½ points through a first in the shot at 49 feet, 11 inches, third in the discus and a tie for third in the high jump.

Fine weather, the largest number of schools, competitors, and events, and a good crowd of spectators made the meet one of the finest in the 20 years of its history.

Bears sign George, All-American tackle

One of the outstanding college football stars of the 1951 season has been added to the Chicago Bears' roster in Bill George, All American tackle from Wake Forest college. George is 22 years old, stands 6 feet, 2½ inches, and weighs 235 pounds, hailing from Waynesburg, Penn.

Rated by many Southern and Eastern coaches as the finest lineman developed in several years, George was unanimous all-Southern tacke last fall, and also was honored on a majority of All American teams.

Fancied highly by all of the National Football League clubs, George was a much sought-after player at the annual player selection meeting a year ago. He was the Bears' number two choice. Due to the fact that he had dropped out of school in 1950, George had a season of eligibility remaining last fall, and the Bears encouraged him to return to Wake Forest.

Although he has been a standout tackle during his three seasons in college, George also has started at end. He is extremely fast (10.3) and very quick. The new Bear tackle also excels in kicking off, place kicking and converting points after touchdown. He also is a long range punter.

Glenbard wins 'little four' track title

TABLE OF POINTS

Glenbard	55½	Riverside	47
Downers	52	Hinsdale	43½

Glenbard collected 55½ points to capture its first Little Four track championship in Downers Grove yesterday. Downers Grove, which won the meet four straight years, finished second with 52 points.

George Moyers of Hinsdale shattered the 180 yard low hurdles when he traveled the distance in :20.8. Downers Groves' Ed. Zagol tossed the shotput 49 feet, 10½ inches to better a three year mark.

Glenbard grid card

Five home games are on Glenbard high school's slate for the 1952 football season.

Opening the '52 campaign with their traditional foe, Wheaton, the Hilltoppers will tangle with a new opponent, Chicago Vocational, on their home turf the following week end.

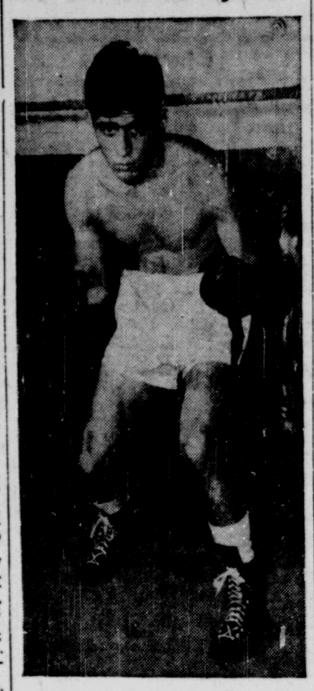
Rival York is next on the list with Arlington Heights, Hinsdale, Riverside, Maine, Downers Grove and LaGrange completing the schedule.

Illini golfers lose

University of Illinois golfers lost at Indiana Saturday, 26½-9½. Vern Rascher of Arlington Heights, captain of the squad, was last year's No. 2 man behind Jerry Flood, teaming with Flood to form the top best ball duo. Rascher, senior from Arlington Heights, finished one stroke behind Cassady in the Big Ten tournament last season. Rascher, who will be trying for his second varsity monogram, is an agriculture student. He is 23 years old, stands 6-1, weighs 185 pounds.

The Illini play host to Michigan Saturday and Iowa Monday.

Can he beat Davey



Chicago Vejar, slugging New York university student, will tangle with Chuck Davey in a 10 rounder at the Chicago Stadium May 7. Vejar has lost only one fight in 42 bouts. Davey is undefeated in 32. The bout pits two collegians, for the first time in ring annals. Davey holds a masters degree from Michigan State and Vejar is studying dramatics at NYU.

Tony Spano, West Side Italian featherweight contender, has been signed to meet sharp-shooting Tommy Salem, Cleveland, 126 pounder, in the eight round semifinal on the Chuck Davey-Chico Vejar card.

Salem scored his latest ring triumph at the Stadium April 16, on the Graziano-Robinson card, taking a six round decision from Pat Iacobucci, the Cincinnati buzzsaw. By virtue of his victory over Iacobucci, who was installed as a heavy betting favorite to defeat the Cleveland youngster, Salem was given the semi-windup spot against Spano.

Major 3-year olds still eligible for Arlington Classic

Gunning for the gold and glory that comes with the major three-year-old tests of spring and summer, 196 leading thoroughbred sophomores have maintained eligibility for the 1952 Arlington Classic July 19 and 194 for the American Derby at Washington Park, Aug. 9.

Each event figures to go to the post with a gross value of $155,000 each, making them the richest three-year-old events in racing. The winners will net around $110,000 each.

The eligibility figures represent an increase of 27 per cent over the second payment totals for 1951 renewals. Final payments on the Classic and the American Derby and seven other future stakes are due at midnight, Thursday.

Virtually every three-year-old star remains on the Classic and American Derby eligible list. The roster is a who's who of sophomore racing — Tom Fool, Primate, Pintor, Oh Leo, Gushing Oil, Marcador, One Throw, Whither, Master Fiddle, Armageddon, Arroz, Sub Fleet, Cousin and Princess Lygia.

Three of the nation's top money-winning thoroughbreds gave notice they will attempt to add over $200,000 to their bankrolls during the 67-day Arlington Park-Washington Park season which opens June 16 at Arlington.

Intent, Miche and Spartan Valor were among the 88 horses kept eligible via second payments for the $150,000 Arlington Handicap and the 111 runners for the $170,000 Washington Park Handicap. Final payments on the two handicaps and seven other future stakes are due at midnight, Thursday, May 1.

Horsemen already have set one record for the 1952 Arlington Park-Washington Park summer racing season, six weeks before the 67-day meeting gets under way on June 16.

Executive director Benjamin F. Lindheimer has announced an all-time high of 1,727 nominees kept eligible for nine early-closing stakes via second payment fees. The total shattered last year's peak of 1,556 by approximately ten per cent.

Final payments are due at midnight tonight (Thursday) on the nine events, which represent $595,000 in added money and six races which will gross over $130,000 each.

Illini win 2 of 3 games over week end

Illinois' 1952 baseball team opened its Big Ten campaign Friday against Michigan at Ann Arbor, losing 20-7. They split with Michigan State Saturday, losing, 1-0, after winning, 12-1.

Eilbracht has been pleased by progress of his squad which won four of its first non-league games. Both infield and outfield have played well nigh flawless baseball. Lack of hitting, especially in clutch situations, has been a major handicap.

The squad plays host to Purdue and Indiana this week end.

Barrington hammers Northbrook, 20-4

Barrington hammered two Northbrook pitchers for 19 hits and combined them with nine errors to run away with the Vikings 20-4 in the Northwest Conference baseball opener Tuesday. The battery of Bob and Dick Iverson for Barrington allowed only six hits and but one run until the final inning.

Ela-Vernon's starter Obenauff was batted from the box but heavy hitting by the Bears turned the opening game into a 14-7 victory at Antioch Tuesday. Bensenville's Bisons lived up to pre-season predictions as Jim Karrigan hurled a 7-2 win at Grant High in Fox Lake Tuesday afternoon.

York edges Card nine

The Arlington Heights high school baseball team closed the first round of play in the West Suburban league by falling, 4-3, before second place York on the winners' field Monday.

The Cardinals are roosting in fourth place with three wins to balance four losses.

In Monday's seven inning fray, Bob Simmons, Cardinal hurler, allowed six hits and walked two. His mates committed two errors. Pat Lira, winning pitcher, allowed six hits, one a triple by Ron Grace, and gave up three passes. The Elmhurst youths also bobbled two.

ARLINGTON SCORED their three tallies in the top half of the fourth frame. Pitcher Lira issued his only three passes of the game to successive batters, Bill Lynk, Leon Nolte and Gene Dassonville. With the bases loaded, Bob Simmons hit into a double play (Hoffman to Miller to Riggs) but Lynk romped home on the play. Nolte went to third and tallied behind Grace's triple. Grace scored a few minutes later on a wild throp in a pick-off attempt. Wayne Hesch struck out to end the inning.

York scored in the first and third innings.

In the first, first baseman DiGennaro, leadoff, banged out a single. Hoffman grounded out (Grace to Dassonville) and Bob Simmons got Riggs to strike out, but Polonos singled through the infield to score DiGennaro. Herman walked, but died on base when Krenek lined to Hans Schmidt in left field.

IN THE THIRD inning, DiGennaro walked and was safe on second when John Eakins gobbled up Hoffman's slow roller but too late to make a play. DiGennaro scored

Now let strife cease and all pull together for local prosperity. Life is too short to quarrel. We can succeed only by unity and harmony. The Herald succeeded in getting out the voters at both the village and school elections and we are satisfied with the verdict of a large majority.

The movement for educated men on the board of education is all right and should be the continued policy. Neither politics or religion or any other side issue should be allowed to interfere with the efficiency of the public schools.

The political situation grows more unsettled daily. The numerous state primaries show great strife in the Republican ranks while the Democrats are cultivating harmony. Arlington Heights is way behind most other enlightened communities in many respects. At the school election Saturday members of the board of education persisted in their old habit of numbering each ballot handed in to correspond with the number before the name of each person who voted. This was wrong.

We expect the contractors will resume work on Arlington Hts. sewer system May 1. If that main sewer follows the plans it will necessitate deep and dangerous digging, about 15 feet, at the corner of Dunton and Hawthorne streets.

● BACK AGAIN

After departing before the cold rains of a couple of weeks ago, the unseasonably warm weather played a return engagement last week and turned on several days of that warm Ozark spring weather that tended to make a person forget the long tough winter.

The air was soft and balmy, the spring flowers were bursting into bloom, the magnolia and the apricot first of the trees to put forth their blossoms were all of a sudden things of expansive beauty.

Bird calls echoed through the air in the early morning as bluejays, flickers, robins, cardinals, thrushes and even the lowly sparrows filled the air with their assorted calls as they greeted the rising sun in an exuberance of joy at just being alive on such beautiful mornings.

Spring has indeed come back to the land and in the farmers fields the fresh green shoots of the oats can be seen coming up and the winter wheat fields stretch out in an expansive carpet of lovely green. Pastures and meadows are greening up and the soil of the cultivated fields is being made ready for corn and other crops.

Trees and shrubs are fast leafing out and over the entire countryside is an air of cheerful hope as a new spring takes the place of the drab winter months.

Birds singing, trees and shrubs showing their sheen of green, flowers bursting into fragrant bloom, the farmers actively preparing for another growing season, all the land shows a sudden return to vital throbbing life, it's a wonderful season and everything in it shows an exuberance and joy in living that makes a person glad to be alive.

● ON RIGHT TRACK

Some of the youngsters of Palatine's eighth grades have shown an active interest this year in what makes the wheels go around as far as government is concerned. They have been studying the history of Palatine and its form of government and when they get through with their course, they should have a pretty good idea of the subject.

They have bombarded some of the old timers and officials with questions for months and they have heard talks on various phases of the subjects under discussion. E. P. Steinbrinck spoke on the form of local government, Chief of Police Frank Meyer spoke on police work and Tom Hart spoke on politics.

The youngsters have shown a keen interest in their subject, they are on the right track. If young people of that age will take an interest in government and what makes it tick, it will mean that better equipped citizens will be ready for the problems of the future and that when these enlightened youngsters and others like them get to be voters there will be enough interest in government so that more than 51% of the qualified voters will vote in a presidential election. That present percentage of 51 is a pitiful and a disgraceful record for the greatest democracy on earth.

● MORE DELEGATIONS

The Palatine village board would like to see more delegations visit the board meetings such as the recent road delegation from Palanois park. The board feels that at that meeting a lot of people learned a lot of things they didn't know about how the village operates and what its problems are.

They feel that if more people would visit the meetings and see how things do work that there would be a better understanding between the public and the officials.

So folks come on out to those board meetings even if you don't have anything to take up with the board. Come anyway and see what makes the wheels go round.

● MEETINGS

It seems to be a tough job to get folks to take enough interest in something they are interested in to come out to a meeting and hear it talked about.

There sure has been enough talking about personal property taxes during the past few years, but last week the Palatine Chamber of Commerce sponsored a meeting to discuss this much "cussed" subject and only a handful of people turned out to hear the discussion. It was a good meeting and a lot of good points were brought out, but there was only a sorrowful showing in numbers of persons to take part in the meeting.

If people aren't enough interested in something that has caused as much talk as personal property taxes to come out and hear the subject discussed, we don't know why a newspaper should waste time and space trying to tell about it.

● 16 TO 1

No, that figure isn't the ghost of William Jennings Bryan's silver standard of many years ago, nor is it a lopsided baseball score, it's the ratio of delinquent personal property tax bills between Palatine and Barrington township.

At the C. of C. meeting last week, Judge Haggenjos of Barrington to whom Barrington and Palatine delinquent bills are turned over for collection, said that there were 1600 delinquent personal property tax bills for 1949 in his files from Palatine township for collection and only 100 from Barrington township.

That's where the 16 to 1 ratio comes in. The judge further said that there is a complete record of delinquencies for the past ten years and he intimated that one of these days the lid was going to blow off. He said that Palatine township was "in terrible shape."

Well, the schools and all the other taxing bodies know that too. They know that they haven't been getting the money they levied for and that 1600 delinquent personal property bills tell part of the story.

● BASEBALL

The baseball season has started in the big leagues and the handful of fans around here who had rather risk the bite of a mosquito or a little chill from a lake breeze and be out in the fresh air seeing the real thing rather than be cooped up in a stuffy house looking at a T.V. production are wondering what's going to be doing in a baseball way around here.

It looks as if there would be no local league this year for Palatine, but we do hear that a good town team with a lot of stars of the past are going to play in the Illinois softball league and will play Sunday night games at Palatine.

Well, that will help some and we hope that the attendance will warrant the boys' efforts.

And what about the Arlington Red Wings for Sunday afternoons? We hear the boys would like to play but are hesitant after last season's awful attendance flop. We hope the Red Wings do play. They have furnished some great entertainment during the years and they are too vital an institution to this whole area to be left to just wither and die on the vine.

That problem of attendance hit all prairie ball teams last year, both hard and soft ball. What the situation will be this year no one can tell yet, but last year's experience has forced the abandonment of many teams.

It just looks like too many folks prefer to stay indoors before a T.V. set rather than risk getting a little fresh air and some health giving suns rays out in the open watching young fellows play for the real fun of playing and the pleasure of giving entertainment to others.

● IMPROVEMENT

For a long time the village of Palatine has talked about putting some crushed stone between the station platform and the curb on the south side of the tracks. At last the job is done at the intersection of Bothwell street and station drive and the improvement is wonderful.

Folks no longer have to step off the platform into a mud hole, and the physical improvement in the location is almost beyond belief. How nice it's all going to look when that park and parking plan is finally worked out and in operation. By the way, how's all that coming along? Do we have to go through another whole year with the same conditions prevailing? That little improvement has whetted the people's appetite for more.

● POT OF GOLD

Another bowler in that tough Friday night league hit the jackpot and the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow when Art Schwolow turned in a husky 276 score to take the boy's money.

It's been quite a while since Art has hit as high a peak as that and he was so delighted with his performance that we hear he woke up the family when he got home to tell them about it.

The season is near the close and the boys haven't many more shots at the big money.

Weekly recipe

Cookies can be delicious, filling, and also nutritious. My recipe this week tells you how to make Oatmeal Apple Surprises which you and your family will find very appealing, but most of all they contain many healthful ingredients

Oatmeal Apple Surprises

½ cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teapsoon baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons cocoa
1¼ cups ground raw apple
1 cup rolled oats, uncooked
½ cup raisins
½ cup chpped walnuts

Cream butter until soft, add sugar and continue creaming until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt, spices, and cocoa. Add to first mixture alternately with ground apples. (Apples should be put through food chopper using medium blade.) Add rolled oats, raisins, and nuts. Mix well. Cover bowl and chill 1 hour. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: 4 dozen cookies, 2 inches in diameter.

A la Tribune

I do not enjoy reading a newspaper that editorializes from the first page to the last. When my family and I became "Chicago emigrants," we thought we were going to a community that would not be dominated in its reading matter by self appointed thought police; instead we find a smaller edition of the Chicago Tribune, only it's named the Arlington Heights Herald.

Your coverage of the Roth Manufacturing company incident, personal property taxes, and every other controversial issue, is slanted to suit your needs and both sides of a story are never given completely unbiased treatment.

I think it would be to your own benefit as well as to the benefit of the entire area if you would change your policy to that of a news reporter and keep your editorials plainly labeled as such, not mingled amongst the news items.

Scout funds

I think I express the opinions of the general public and the cub scout leaders in particular when I say a hearty thanks to your newspaper and the leaders of the youth fund drive for their efforts in behalf of the cub scouts and the other young people's groups. You and those who conducted the drive have contributed greatly of your time and effort.

However, despite your efforts and theirs to see the public was properly informed about the use to which those funds are put, there remains in the minds of most citizens a serious misconception.

Most folks I have talked to, including the den mothers of Pack 251, are convinced the money goes to the various units in Mt. Prospect. Actually not one cent comes back to be spent by a cub pack or boy scout troop.

The portion of the money going to the Scout organizations is well used, and I am always happy to make my small personal contribution, but the money goes for such things as professional scout executive and office salaries, upkeep of the council office in Park Ridge, upkeep of the boy scout camp, training, outdoor activities of the council and about one per cent to national headquarters for support of regional scout offices. Without the support of the council and regional offices boy scouting and cub scouting as presently organized could not exist.

However, when the idea becomes prevalent that the money goes to the units themselves, parents wonder why the cubs have bake sales as we are doing May 17; why $2.50 to $3.50 a year dues are collected from each boy; why the cubs and scouts profit from the paper drives why special assessments are made occasionally to cover handicraft.

The reason is that our budget runs around $300 a year, which must be made up from collection of dues, the paper drives and occasionally a supplementary money-making event. The money is paid out for annual registration fees, insignia, literature, handicraft, cub parties and picnics.

Ours is not an unusual pack. Some must collect and spend more, some less. The same is true of scout troops, but none of us gets it from the youth fund drive. We leaders find it embarrassing when we encounter the idea that these funds are available to us on a local level.

I am sure Fred Welsh of Mt. Prospect, head of the Blackhawk district of the boy scouts, would be willing to confirm this information.

We appreciate the efforts of those participating in the youth fund drive. We realize they gave of their time and effort to help us, not themselves, but we would like it known how the Scouting portion of the money is used.

Charles W. Payne,
Cubmaster, Pack 251
Mt. Prospect.

Heart fund

My co-workers in the 1952 fund drive of the Chicago heart association join me in expressing our appreciation for your splendid co-operation in publicizing the need for funds to fight heart disease.

Recent advances made by medical science give every reason to believe that even more dramatic solutions to the problems of the heart diseases will be discovered if research continues at its present pace. By presenting the facts to your readers, you have helped create a public awareness of this major health problem.

A month ago while walking to town our father Ferdinand Wodworka, late of 337 S. Hale st., Palatine, suffered a fatal heart attack.

The manner in which the situation was handled by police chief Meyer was commendable, and we members of the family of the deceased wish to praise his kindness, thoughtfulness and consideration to the people of Palatine.

They are indeed fortunate to have a man such as chief Meyer as head of their police department.

'Emigrants'

Paddock Publications omitted by error in last week's issue part of a paragraph in a letter headed "Fair Play." The omission follows, also an additional comment by the same author.

"You have contributed to ill feeling among the residents of Arlington Heights by the use of the terms of ridicule."

He writes this week:

"Your reference on the first page of the current issue, likening new residents from Chicago to emigrants does not further a feeling of neighborliness."

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

from PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

If you have been watching either "Uncle Miltie" or "Frankie" at seven o'clock on Tuesday evenings, I think you have really been missing something! There is another television star on who, according to the Trendex rating, seems to be stealing viewers from Berle and Sinatra very rapidly. His countenance can either be appealing in its boyishness or frightening in the hard lined firmness of an Old Testament prophet. He is a dynamic person whose messages (sprinkled with often brilliantly drawn analogies) make for thirty minutes of very worthwhile listening.

It is remarkable to see Bishop Fulton Sheen, dressed in his black robe and skull cap and using no script or props other than a blackboard, hold one's attention for half an hour telling how to make our lives fuller and happier and the many reasons why "Life is Worth Living." Although he is a Roman Catholic Bishop and U.S. director of the Pontifical Society for the Propagation of the Faith, and also a missionary whose many conversions include such people as Henry Ford II, Heywood Broun, Clare Booth Luce and Fritz Kreisler, his talks are not specifically Roman Catholic, nor are they designed to convert his audience. But rather, they are talks consisting of practical advice which can be accepted by people of any Christian faith.

IN THE APRIL 14th issue of Time magazine there is an interesting article about the Bishop—tracing the high points of his life from its humble beginning in El Paso, Ill., and revealing the many facets of his personality, such as his magnetism and inexhaustible supply of energy, which are responsible for his spectacular rise in the Roman Catholic church.

Also brought out in the article was the fact that the DuMont network, which presents the show but gets no money for it, was shocked at the response of 8,500 letters a week and to discover that the program's popularity rating was higher than any other "inspirational" or intellectual show! "In the New York archdiocese a standard Tuesday question among Catholic clerics has come to be: 'Who're you going to tune in tonight? Uncle Miltie or Uncle Fultie?'"

AFTER SEEING several of Bishop Sheen's programs and reading Time's article, I was anxious to borrow, from a friend of mine, his book, "Lift Up Your Heart" to see if he is as logical and compelling an author as he is speaker. Even though I'm only half way through the book (you have to concentrate pretty well when reading this type of philosophical writing to hold on to the train of thought) I'm sure I'll not be disappointed. The book is a treatise on the inner life of modern man and the manner by which it can be developed to desire and reach for that which is outside its own self centered ego and thereby gain the prize of happiness and true peace of mind.

Although inspirational and thought provoking, this book's greatest appeal for me is in the pure logic of its ideas: "True peace is a gift of God; false peace is of our own making. True peace flourishes in an increasing friendship with God; false peace is spawned in forgetfulness of God and exaltation of the self. True peace deepens in sorrow; false peace is shattered by reverses. True peace has no wants; false peace is restless and covetous. True peace has a lowly estimate of self; false peace lives in fear of being found inferior. True peace has a firm trust in God despite its own past sins; false peace shrinks from the thought of God because it will not put an end to present sins."

My love,
Patty.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Well, folks, I feel a sermon coming on, and as I have always wanted to be a minister, here goes!

Tales of conditions of the morals of soldiers, sailors and marines have been coming back from workers in army camps everywhere, and they are a long way from what they should be. The other day I heard a fellow who was a Christian worker in war camps make the remark that venereal diseases are rampant in those areas, and the figures which he gave were terrific. Drinking and other forms of moral debauchery are on the increase, he said.

Everyone knows that none of us has the right to say what we would do as members of the armed forces, but it is alarming to hear that a sizeable portion of the men are going to the dogs, and many of our women soldiers are following in their footsteps.

I am reminded that back in early Biblical days, when the Israelites got too far from God's laws concerning adultery and other forms of sin, devastating things happened. A great many people reading this will say that it was not because they got away from God that it happened, but because of the corruption of the people, and the treachery and connivance of their leaders. I should like to point out here that immorality whether it has anything to do with God's laws or not, which many people doubt, is nevertheless the forerunner of national ruin and decay. Looking into the history of every great nation of the world, one finds that the first symptom of a dying nation is the corruption of that nation's morals from top to bottom. It happened in Rome, which is perhaps the world's outstanding example of what corruption and immorality can do to a nation.

Christianity is and always has been the salvation of mankind and nations. The observance of Christian teachings make a nation or an individual strong, and failing to observe and practice them make both the individual and the nation weak. So far as the salvation of our nation is concerned, you can lay this down as a natural law for our nation's preservtion, or the Christian law for the preservation of our souls—it makes no great difference. The result, insofar as our nation's existence is concerned, is the same.

Not the cold but the heating that hurts

No harm would be done in letting an empty house get cold, provided all plumbing and heating pipes are completely drained. The harm that is usually done is in heating it again, with condensation of moisture on walls, ceilings and floors. Such damage can be avoided if, when you reopen the house, you heat it very gradually, with adequate ventilation to prevent the condensation of moisture.

Presbyterian men adopt constitution at organizational dinner meeting

The constitution of the newly organized Arlington Heights Chapter of Presbyterian Men of the First Presbyterian church was adopted Monday night at an organizational dinner meeting in the church dining room attended by 100 men of the church. Dinner was served by the Women's association.

Arrangements were completed for making application for a formal charter with the National Council of Presbyterian Men of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A. The local chapter's fundamental purpose, in common with that of hundreds of similar groups throughout the nation, is as follows: "to promote the Kingdom of God world-wide by encouraging Presbyterian Men to serve Jesus Christ in the work of the church, and to follow Him in the vocations of the common life. Further, to encourage Presbyterian men to organize themselves for the following purposes: To sustain more adequately and to enlarge the work of the local church in the community. To take an active part in the meetings and work of Presbytery, Synod and General Assembly. To help and encourage the local church in fulfilling its commitments and responsibilities to the world-wide mission of the church."

In reviewing the needs of the new Council, N. M. Lattof, president, pointed out that membership in the church has more than doubled since 1947, with the importance of integrating new men thoroughly into the church work and service steadily growing. Every man of the church is included in Presbyterian Men (PM). Another highlight of the evening's program was a talk by Dr. Luther E. Stein, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Oak Park. He outlined the following essential elements of the life of a Presbyterian man in the modern church: Worship . . . Study of the Bible . . . Missionary work for others . . . Stewardship . . . Service . . . Fellowship.

Men of the church, under the direction of a committee headed by Roy Hughes, membership and attendance chairman of the Men's council, will conduct the church service on Men's Sunday, May 25.

Mrs. Emma Hamann, nee Roper, was born Decembe. 20, 1880, in Palatine township. She was married in 1900 to Charles Hamann at Immanuel Lutheran church in Palatine. She had lived on a farm in Palatine for a number of years and lived in Arlington Heights for 25 years. She died Monday, April 28, at her home.

Excessive weeds cause big losses in pastures

Weeds are causing tremendous losses in pastures. These pests take space, moisture and plant foods, taint livestock products and reduce land values, points out Capper's Farmer.

With proper management grazing land will yield a return that compares favorably with other cropland, says the nationally-circulated farm magazine. Here is a suggested pasture improvement program including weed control:

Apply lime and phosphate. Plant adapted grasses and legumes. Don't overgraze. Plant pasture in rotations. Use commercial fertilizer. Mow regularly. Spray with chemicals.

"FOUNDATION of a good pasture is the soil," continues the article. Application of lime and phosphate in amounts indicated by soil tests is a basic step. Mineral fertilizers help produce thrifty root systems, which enable the plants to grow faster and compete better with weeds.

The ideal grass should be a vigorous grower, able to withstand heavy grazing, winter-hardy, drouth-resistant, and aggressive enough to form a good turf that will prevent erosion and weed invasion. For advice on best varieties for your area, see your county agent.

Rotating land between pasture and cultivated crops is an excellent method of controlling many weeds while improving the soil. In rotation pastures there is usually not much trouble with weedy or brush pests like hazel brush, iron-weed, prickly ash, whorled milkweed, or such annual weeds as ragweed or daisy fleabane.

CERTAIN WEEDS, like foxtails, barnyard grass, wild morning-glory and climbing milkweed, that increase while land is in cultivated crops, are usually easily controlled by grazing when the area is returned to grass and legumes. Weeds which spread in permanent pastures are quickly eradicated when the land is put in cultivated crops.

Value of mowing pastures cannot be overemphasized for control of such plants as ragweed, penny cress and downy bromegrass. Mowing will not kill perennial weeds, but it will prevent seeding and spreading.

CHEMICAL WEED control is rapid, low in cost, and adapted to areas which cannot be handled through rotation of crops. Sprays destroy roots as well as top growth. Brushy plants such as sumac, buckbrush and poison ivy can be controlled by cutting and spraying stubble and regrowth with 2,4-D or 2,4,5-T. On mixed brush a combination of the two chemicals is usually more effective than either one used alone. Seldom will one application give complete weed control.

The problem of injuring legumes in pastures should be considered before applying weed spray. Both 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T will kill or injure clovers when the dose is heavy enough to kill most weeds. It is advisable to keep livestock out of sprayed pastures until the weeds are past the wilted stage and have definitely started to die.

Spittlebug control

Spittlebugs have begun to hatch in this area reports farm adviser Carl F. Mees. Treatment can start now and continue for the next week or 10 days. The time to stop treatment is when the alfalfa reaches a height of 8 inches. The effectiveness of low pressure sprayers decreases at this point and residue problems rapidly increase.

The insecticides recommended for use are Lindane B.H.C. (benzene hexachloride) and toxaphine. Apply lindane or B.H.C. at the rate of 2/10 pounds of gamma isomer per acre (see label on container) apply toxaphine at the rate of 1½ pounds per acre.

Lindane is preferred because it is less likely to leave residues or odors on the plants at harvest. The amount of water to use will depend on the delivery of the sprayer, but at least 10 gallons per acre is preferred with ground equipment.

Glenview Countryside defeats sewer issue

The move to establish a subsanitary district in Glenview Countryside was defeated by a vote of 266 to 232. The issue was presented to residents for the sole purpose of providing the sanitary sewer system for the area.

Reluctance of the voters to form an additional taxing body appeared to be the major defeat of this issue.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Renew Worn-Out Wagon Bed!

YOU DON'T have to get along with a rough and splintery wagon bed any longer. Here are the easy directions for covering the old surface with a material that is inexpensive, extremely smooth, moisture-resistant and very durable.

With wagon sides removed, place panels of Masonite ¼" tempered hardboard over the entire bed. Fasten it with bolts or screws. Necessary openings may be made with a drill and keyhole saw. The wagon sides and ends may be lined in the same way.

The smooth surface of the tempered hardboard makes shoveling a cleaner and easier task.

Farm wagon beds aren't the only spots for this versatile material. For working surfaces in the shop, barn or milk house, tempered hardboard is the answer. It also is widely used in dry wall construction.

Buy high-quality farm drain tile

If you want a good tile drainage system, you have to pick good tile at the start. Before you buy any farm drain tile, be sure that it is a high-quality product.

Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees says a tile line is no better than its weakest piece of tile. Much of the tile sold to farmers in the past has varied widely in quality. Some of that being sold at present is of poor quality.

Mees recommends that you avoid maintenance troubles caused by failure or poor-quality tile to stand up by insisting on getting high-quality tile from your dealer.

Standard drain tile is the grade you should buy if the lines are less than six feet deep. For lines deeper than six feet, get extra-quality grade.

Ag. engineers make farming in state easier

Agricultural engineers at the University of Illinois are busy making Illinois farms easier, faster and more economical places to produce needed food and fiber says farm adviser Carl F. Mees.

A large part of this work centers around efforts to improve farm building mechanization. Farm buildings today must be brought to life with electric service, machines and useful design if they are to best serve farm needs.

Deane G. Carter, professor of farm structures at the Illinois college of agriculture, in charge of the work, points out the top problem involved in the research work. Carter says no matter how good any individual structure, unit or device may be, it is useful to a farmer only as he can fit it into his own farm's operations.

For instance, automatic handling, grinding and conveying of farm feeds is one of the ways in which Illinois agricultural engineers have been applying engineering methods to improve farm operations. Yet the problem is not completely solved until buildings are designed, located and built to handle automatic equipment most efficiently.

A FARMER'S problems go beyond feed grinding and handling. He must gather and store his feed supply, condition it against loss or spoilage, process feed and distribute it to his animals and clear away the manure. Research is trying to power, mechanize and make this series of farm operations as nearly automatic as possible.

Operation improvements have also been made in crop processing, drying, conditioning and storage, Carter says. Agricultural engineering research is making dairy housing and operations and meat animal production continually more efficient and economical.

Modern Etiquette

Q. When it is impossible for a man's mother to pay the conventional visit upon her son's new fiancee, what kind of a letter can she write?

A. "Dear Ruth: Jim has just told us of his great happiness which, of course, brings joy to us. Our one regret is that we are so far away (or whatever it is that prevents the visit) that we cannot immediately welcome you in person. We do, however, send you our love and good wishes. Margaret Wilson."

Q. Is it all right for a hostess to serve two or three dishes at a time, if she must do all the serving alone?

A. Of course. Considerate guests would not criticize her for this, and of course she would not be serving if the dinner were formal.

Q. Is it all right for a man to use only his initials when signing social correspondence?

A. No; he should sign his full name.

Q. Is it proper to guess at a name if one has not heard it distinctly during an introduction?

A. No; it is much better to ask and be correct. The proper thing to say would be: "I'm very sorry, but I did not hear your name clearly," or, "Did Mr. Johnson call you Miss Ferris? I'm sorry, but I did not hear very well."

Q. How far in advance of the wedding should gifts be sent to the bride?

A. Usually two weeks or ten days before the date of the wedding, so that the bride may have time to acknowledge it.

Q. Who should be seated at the right of the host, if there is no woman guest of honor at a dinner party?

A. Under these circumstances, the eldest woman guest is seated at the right of the host.

Q. What is the proper thing for a woman to do when calling, if she finds her hostess is preparing to go out?

A. She may say, "I see you are ready to go out; I won't keep you." However, if the hostess insists that she remain for a while, it is perfectly proper to do so.

Q. Is it permissible to seat a man and wife together at a dinner party?

A. Not usually. It may be done when the party is in honor of a newly-married couple, then the bride and bridegroom are seated together.

Q. Is it correct to write a note wishing a girl happiness after receiving an announcement of her engagement?

A. Yes; a brief, but sincere, note is in good taste.

Q. Is it obligatory that a woman keep her hat on when attending a large card party?

A. This is optional; if she wishes, she may remove it.

L.P. tractor conversion not too practical

If you want to use factory made L.P. (liquified petroleum) gas for tractor fuel, better buy a regular L.P. gas tractor rather than try to convert your own.

Wendell Bowers, extension farm machinery specialist at the Illinois college of agriculture, says that while some conversion units now on the market are not expensive, they are also not very practical.

Most units consist of a pressure tank mounted on the tractor and tapped in to the carburetor. But this type of conversion won't give your tractor any more power, and the fuel saving over regular gasoline is very light. Then, too, your tractor may be hard to start and may miss under heavy loads.

IT IS NOT practical to use L.P. gas for tractor fuel unless you're using, or plan to use, it for heating or cooking.

If you do convert your tractor to L.P. gas, make sure the unit and your present tractor meet all these specifications:

1. Conversion unit should be approved by the company that made your tractor. This is very important.

2. The unit must raise the compression ratio to at least 6.7 to 1 for increased fuel economy and power.

3. YOU'LL NEED to use a cold manifold with no hot spots.

Bowers says it's also a good idea to use a liquid withdrawal system from the tractor tank to the carburetor vaporizer.

Bowers says L. P. gas does burn cleaner and cause less wear on tractor engines, but right now it is not too practical for the average farmer's use.

IAA opposes truck license increase in '54

The Illinois agricultural association is opposed to the second Illinois truck license fee increase scheduled to take effect in 1954.

The Association's action in opposing the second truck license increase in 1954 was based on the grounds that commercial haulers from other states who handle 52 per cent of the commercial hauling done in Illinois should bear a fair share of the cost of building Illinois roads.

The Association's statement further pointed out: Illinois is a crossroads state for east and west traffic and includes the great Chicago terminus for considerable trucking business. It is possible for out-of-state truckers to use Illinois roads and pay this state not a cent, or very little, for the use of them.

"Most of these cross-country trucks are large trucks for which heavier roads must be built and maintained. The IAA board of directors believes that some plan should be worked out that would lighten the financial burden on local motorists and truckers by passing on part of our road costs to out-of-state truckers who use our roads.

Hobby Show

The hobby show for all students was successful. There were many interesting hobbies displayed. Among these were an aquarium, many, many charms, all kinds of stones, handicraft articles, such as painting, model airplanes, birdhouses, etc. Mrs. Sandeen and Mrs. Lange of Mt. Prospect were judges and made many good comments about the show. We appreciate their efforts and extend our thanks.

All incoming first graders are urged to come and register for the coming school year Tuesday, May 20. Miss Burgh, the school nurse, and Mrs. Allison, first grade teacher, will be here all day to take the registrations. Anyone who knows of children who will be entering school next year, should tell them of the registration date.

MARGARET WALLOR — Ph. Arlington Heights 7167-R

Wilson Community

Dr. D. Taylor, Cook County doctor assigned to the Wilson school, assisted by Dr. Beres and Dr. Cerns, and two nurses, Miss Madro and Miss Greenberg, gave physical examinations, immunization shots and vaccinations at the school last Wednesday. Six children were registered for the first grade next fall but only two of them had birth certificates. Birth certificates or equivalent proof of birth must be shown to the principal, Miss Klehm, on or before April 30. Mrs. Steiger and Mrs. Wallor also assisted with the registration and clerical work involved for school records.

An advanced Red Cross course is being given at the school under the leadership of Mrs. L. Beckway of Arlington Heights. The class meets Mondays at 7:30 p. m. for a two hour session, and the course is for six weeks.

The eighth grade has cancelled their proposed Springfield trip in favor of a dinner and theatre party next Friday evening. The dinner will be held at The Pantry in Park Ridge, and Miss Klehm will be chaperone.

The school annual outing will be held May 9 and the children, accompanied by the teachers and as many mothers as can go, will visit the Chicago Historical Society and Lincoln Park Zoo. Since there are more than 80 children to watch, the teachers have requested that the mothers help as much as possible. Call Miss Klehm for further details.

May 9 is also the date of the next PTA meeting at which time new officers will be installed. A musical program is being arranged and the public is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Barry and son, Phillip Jr., of Jefferson Park were dinner guests last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wallor.

Pine Gate Highlands

Help! Help!

The absence of the column last week was not due to lack of news, but the lack of informing the reporter of what is going on. Though this is a small community, there still are birthdays, anniversaries, and the comings and goings of friends and relatives, all of which make up the social activities in a community. To quote a well known column, "The Wake depends upon its friends," so does the Pinegate Highlands reporter. Phone news items to her and she will be happy to include them in this column.

Association news

Pinegate Highlands Community association will meet Friday, May 2, in Eino Seppala's basement at 8 p. m. Mike Miesczanek will have news on the stop light at Rand and State rds. Eino Seppala has been in touch with Barney Runge and Joe Hinsberger on roads and ditches and it will be interesting to hear his report.

There are one or two building restriction violations in the area, and the building inspection committee headed by George Ogle, should have some facts to report at this meeting. Mrs. Florence Thompson has been working on gas service for the community and will report on the number of people who have signed up.

Spring clean up and garden improvement has been in full swing during the past ten days. There is hardly a house which is not buzzing with activity inside and out. The busiest south siders seem to be the Glimes, Miesczaneks, Flenners and Schotts. The Whittingtons and Benedettis have been delayed waiting for outside plowing.

Personal notes

Pinegate was well represented both nights of the performance of "The State of the Union." Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Daley, Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson, Kay Mayer, Tess Crane, Mrs. George Ogle and Mr. and Mrs. Eino Seppala.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. George Flenner who celebrated their 12th anniversary by having a Japanese dinner at the "Wisteria Tea House."

Seven ladies enjoyed the technique of how to apply make-up properly April 22 at the home of Florence Thompson. Kate Ogle won the prize of the evening for the most natural "look."

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Ingvald Opsahl took a trip to Niagara Falls.

George Flenner and Charlie Rapp, who are reserve officers in the Cook County Reserve Officers association, attended a formal military ball with their wives April 26 at the Lake Shore Athletic club.

IDYL NIPPER, P. O. Box 180Mt. Prospect, Ill.

Feehanville School

The progress of the new school is still being held up pending disposition of the petition.

This is the kind of weather that makes one think of digging in the ground, especially of digging for basements and foundations. It is too bad that with the early spring, our construction program has had to be so long delayed; however, we hope that we can get started soon on the much neded addition.

We have five new students to welcome this week. Dianne and Marlene Gorzelanzyk and Dale Lahl are in the fourth and fifth grades. Darlene Gorzelanezyk and Arthur Lahl are with the sixth grade. They are with the group of our students who are attending the Prospecst Hts. school.

The session of measles seems to have run its course. Gerald Hartzog is the only new student out this week with the disease.

It seems that the officers of the PTA are having a siege of hospitalization. Mrs. Stanley Haverkampf is home from the hospital and is feeling much better. Mrs. Harold Broberg was taken to the hospital last week. We have not as yet had a report as to Mrs. Broberg's condition.

TAX FACTS

By George Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

The vision conjured for Illinois motorists of the better roads they were going to get for the gas tax increase of a cent a gallon last August 1, and from the additional cent a gallon increase coming up January 1, 1953, is turning out to be mostly baloney so far as farm-to-market roads, rural bridges, city streets and county roads are concerned. A large part of the money that was supposed to go into road improvements is going into the pockets of road laborers instead, as the result of one of the most fantastic laws on the statute books.

This law, known as the prevailing wage act, requires that not less than the prevailing wage in the particular locality in which work is performed shall be paid to laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by or on behalf of the state, county, city, township or any other political subdivision for any public construction work exclusive of maintenance work.

What is "work exclusive of maintenance work?" First, it is all work done under contract for the government by any private contractor. Second, if the work is done by the government itself, it includes all new construction work or reconstruction work, or any work done which changes the character of a road or bridge to make it a better class road or bridge, or which restores to good condition a road or bridge which has fallen into a state of disrepair.

EVEN IF THIS definition were not broad enough to cover almost everything, it still in practice is all-inclusive since it is obviously impractical and impossible to try to pay township, city or county road employees one hourly rate one day on one kind of work and a different hourly rate the next day on a different kind of job.

What is the "prevailing wage" in a locality? If a private employer or employers in the locality have agreed on a wage scale through collective bargaining with employees, then that wage scale becomes the "prevailing wage" for all those employed for work of similar character on all public works in the locality. If there is no such negotiated wage scale, then the governmental agency must determine what is the prevailing rate paid for work of a similar character in the locality.

In other words, collective bargaining between a private employer and his employees in a locality sets the wage scale, and the government officials have got to pay that wage scale to government employees for similar works, are subject to imprisonment up to six months or fine up to $500, or both, if they refuse. The fact that the wage scale arrived at by collective bargaining is high because it's based on seasonal nature of the employment, while the government employees are on the payroll 12 months a year, makes no difference either. The taxpayer? He has nothing at all to say about it. He just pays the bills.

WHAT DOES this mean in dollars and cents? In one little township it means an increase in cost of $3360 for 2 men. In a small county, the estimated increase is $400 a mile, or $8000 on the proposed 1952 work program. On three other jobs, completed last year in this county, the cost would have been over 25% higher under this act. In another county, the estimate of the county highway superintendent of increased cost is from $12,000 to $15,000 a year, and a township highway commissioner in that county figures his increase at $1500 to $2000 a year. These estimates are exclusive of contract work. There are 102 counties, 1599 townships and road districts in Illinois.

One more item to make this phantasy complete. The general assembly has refused, session after session, to pass legislation authorizing collective bargaining by employees of local governments. Yet in this prevailing wage act they have bound governments by the results of collective bargaining between private employers and their employees.
